YOUR UNIVERSITY...

... its growth and expansion have set an all-time high for western colleges ... in the spotlight for its outstanding administration and departments of instruction ... a university rich in spiritual tradition.

Your Campus . . .

... a spectacular setting beneath picturesque Mount Timpanogos — just overlooking scenic Utah Lake ... the perfect stage for summer siestas and winter fun ... a friendly campus with a typical college atmosphere.

Your Leadership . .

. . . supervised by an admirable board of trustees and consisting of some of our nation's leading educators . . . a friendly teaching staff devoted to the students . . . an integral part of the University's steady progression.

LARGER THAN EVER...

Your Colleges

... now boasting three newest additions to the fully equipped departments of instruction ... designed to aid the student in selecting a desirable major field of study ... popular honorary and fraternal organizations provide outlets for research and practical application.

Your Activities . . .

. . . time out for more fun than a barrel of you-know-what in a university famous for its dances, parties, assemblies, concerts, plays, and social activities unlimited . . . your first real cultural experience . . . a feast of top entertainment for every taste and season.

... WITH UNLIMITED OPPORTUNITIES

Your Classes . . .

. . . largest in history . . . from the lowly Freshman-week crew to the polished Cap-and-Gown crowd . . . students seeking a liberal education . . . smiling faces of those you knew and those you wish you knew . . . tomorrow's leaders in society.

Your Sports . . .

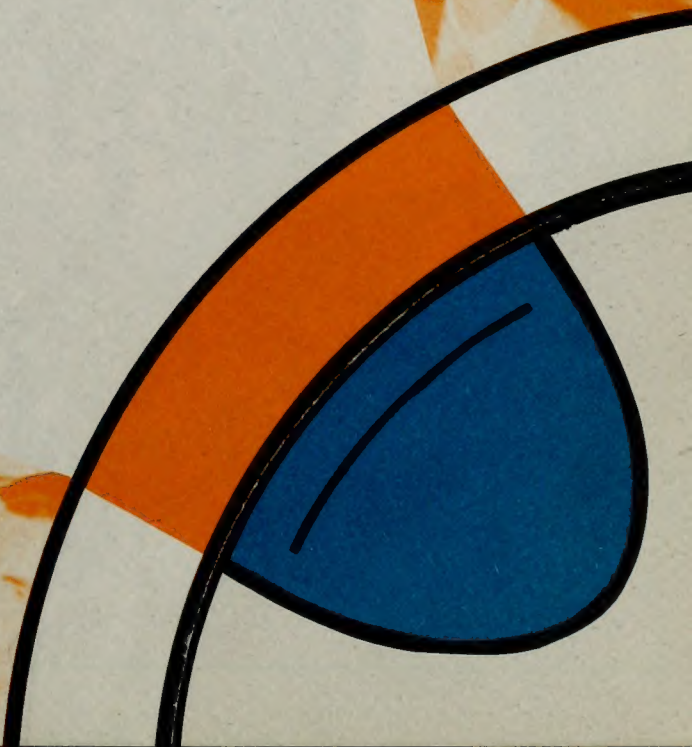

. . . record-breaking scores and thrilling plays to equal those of any team in the past . . . more popular and exciting than ever with professional squads of sports-loving teammates devoted to representing your school in the nation's inter-collegiate spotlight . . . the heart-beat of the university's college spirit.

Your Units . . .

. . . the backbone of social activities . . .
organized to promote honor, brotherhood and friendship on campus . . . another fun-department of the university for all students . . . pledging and initiations create innocent havoc to all concerned . . .
you'll probably never forget that exchange party.

CAMPUS

Symbolizing the birth of upper campus, the majestic white columns of the Maeser Memorial Building reflect the educational ideals of the "Y". Within its marbled halls, the President, Dean of Students, and other administrative officers supervise the business of the university and solve numerous academic problems of the students.

MAESER MEMORIAL BUILDING

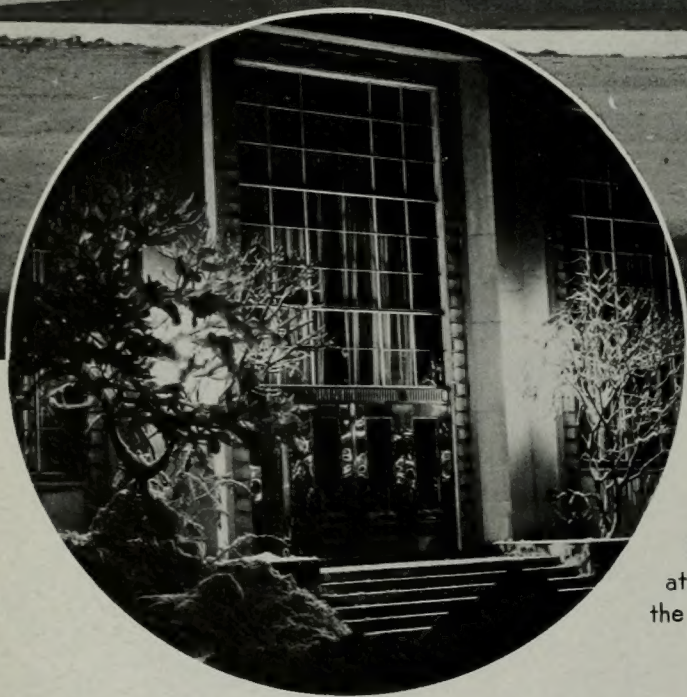

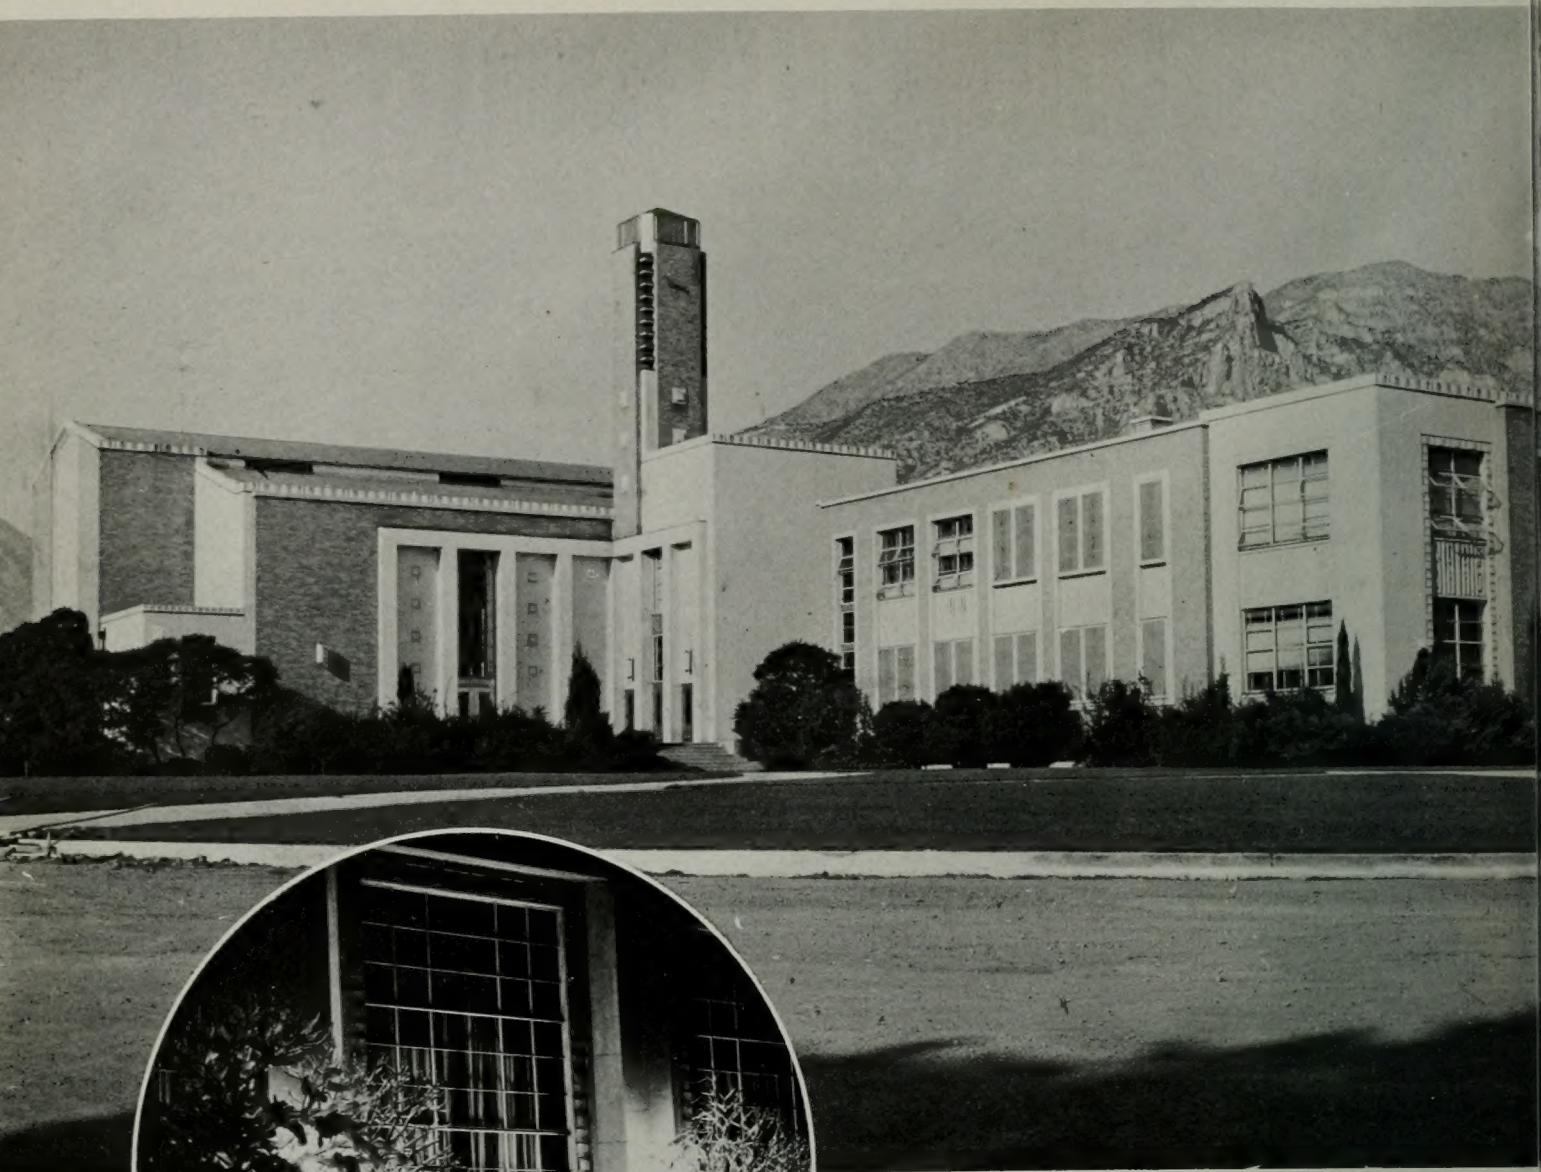

BRIMHALL BUILDING

Imposing and dignified, the three-storied Brimhall Building landmarks early growth of the university and expresses the quiet simplicity of the great educator for whom it was named.

Containing departments of the College of Applied Science, the structure also serves as headquarters for officers of the Air Force ROTC unit on campus.

Cultural and religious center of B.Y.U., the prominent Joseph Smith Building on upper campus is the only structure of its kind named after the famous church leader. Containing massive picture windows framing colorful "Y" Mountain on the east side, it furnishes a wealth of college atmosphere with its musical electronic chimes which ring out the school song between classes.

JOSEPH SMITH BUILDING

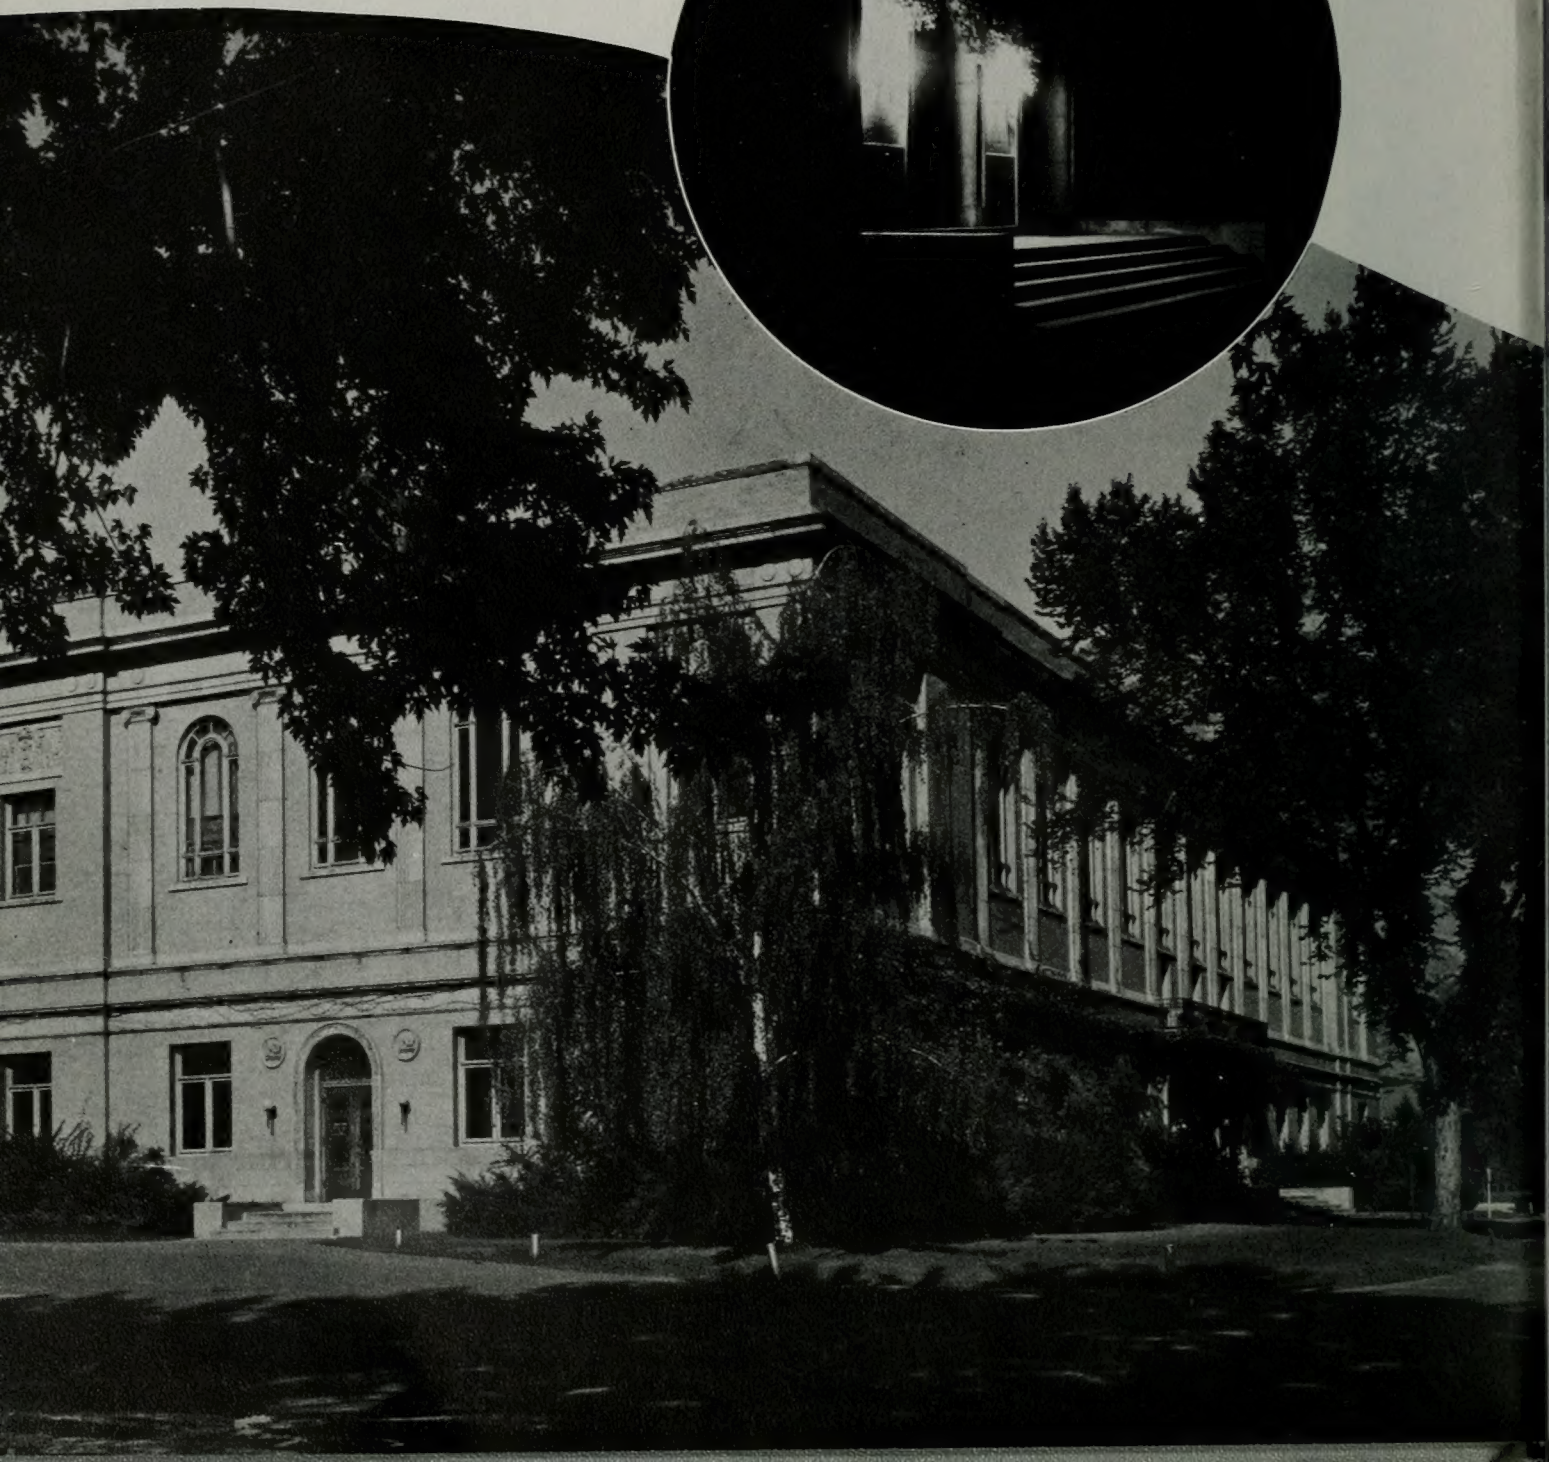

Resembling a stalwart sentinel of time, the familiar Education Building of lower campus began as the Brigham Young Academy and remains today as the classic foundation of a great and modern university.

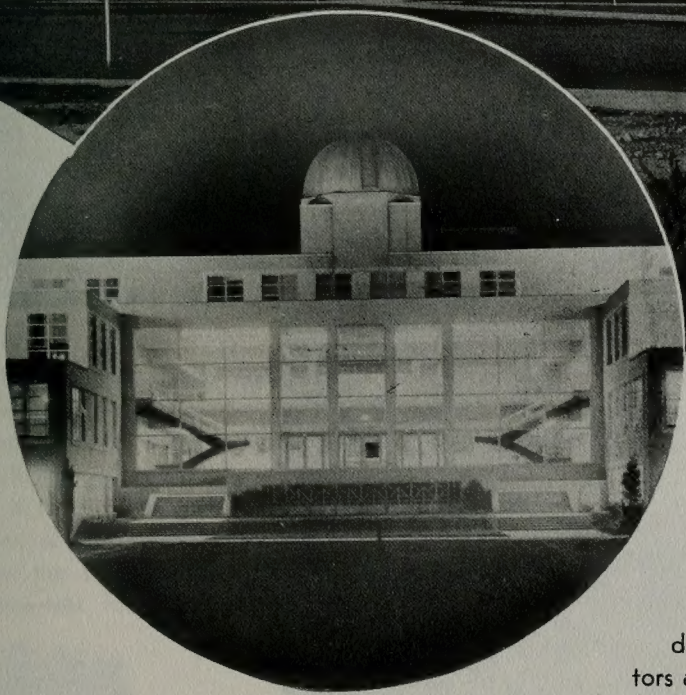

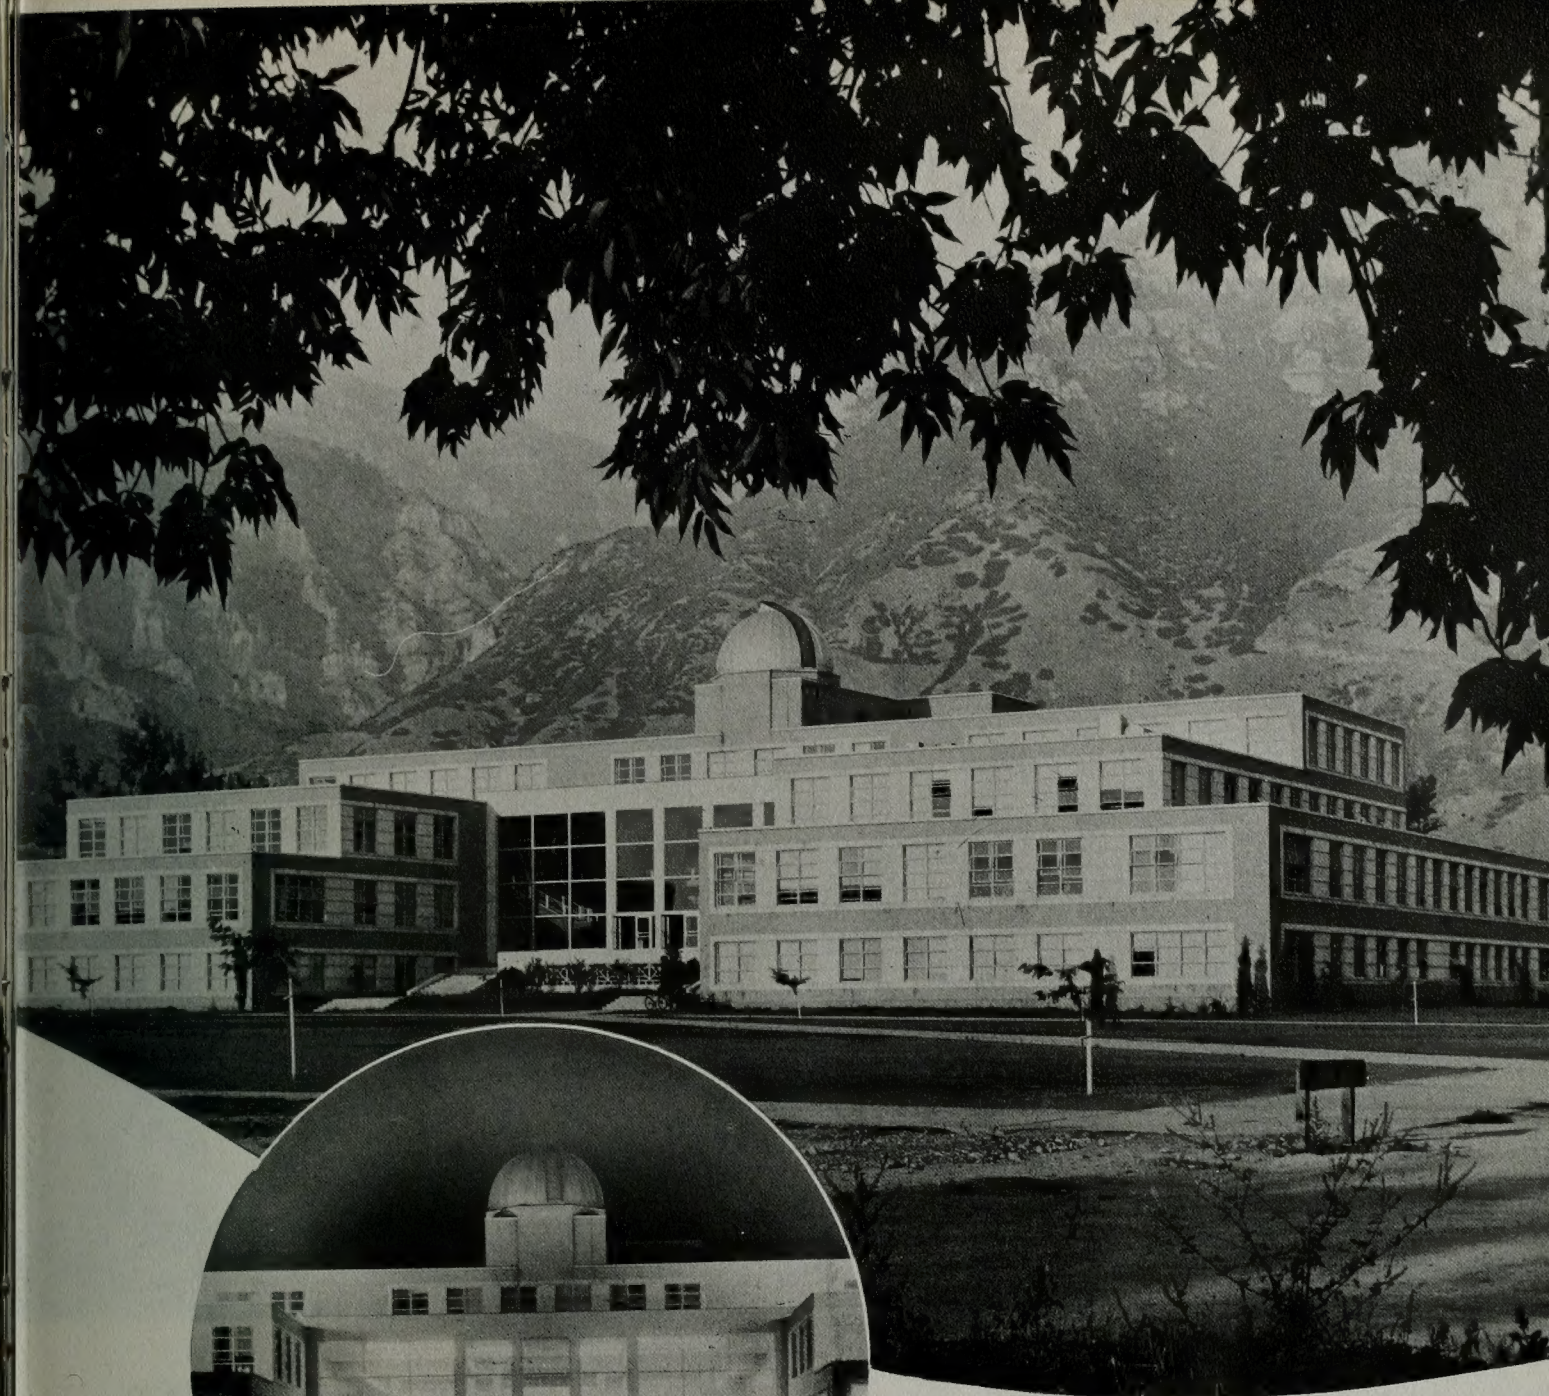

EDUCATION BUILDING

HEBER J. GRANT LIBRARY

Through a tracery of green and gold, the ivy-covered Heber J. Grant Library exemplifies the conscientious efforts of early university leaders to provide ample study facilities for students. In addition to its special collections, the library contains microfilm facilities which make it possible to secure material from all of the general and technical libraries of the world.

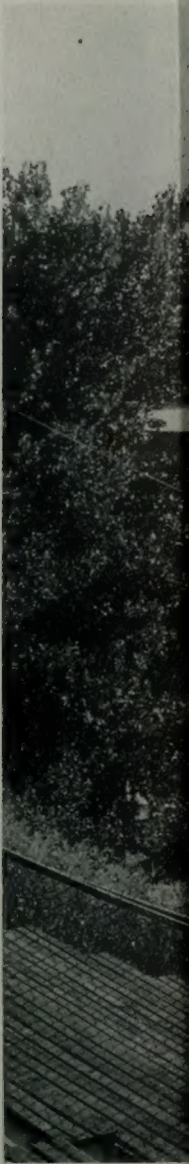

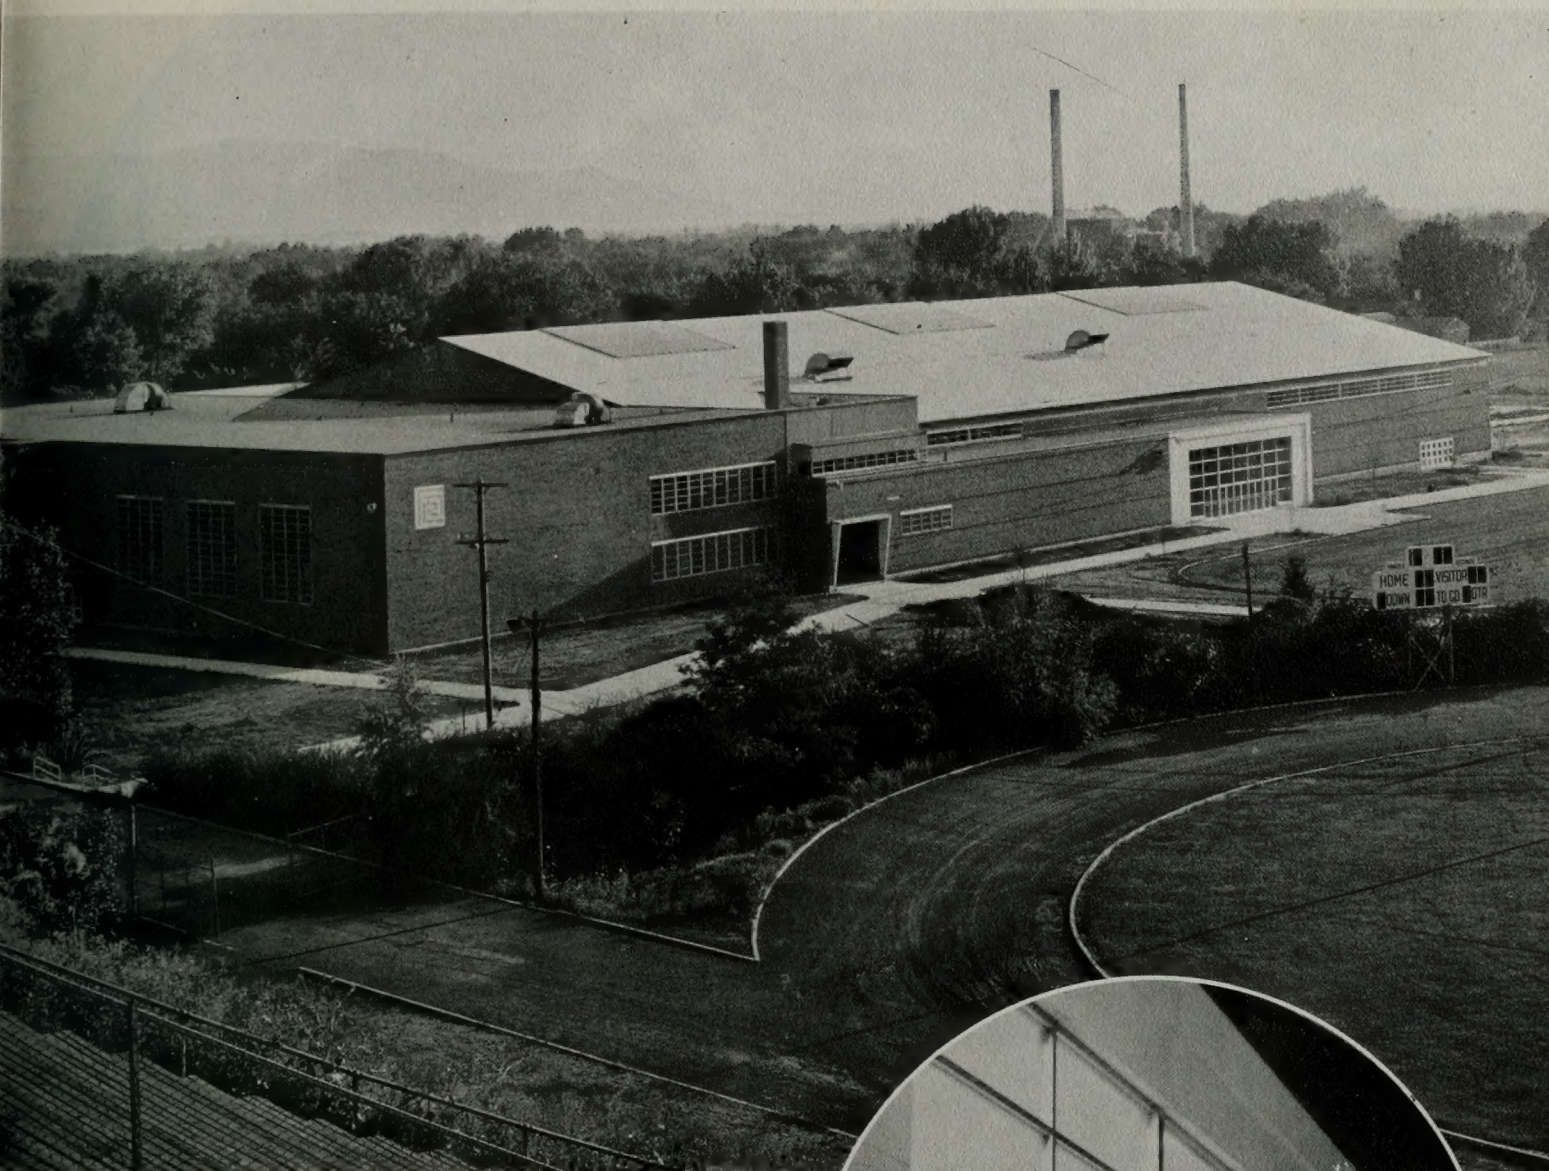

Dramatic cantilever stairways and modern picture windows accent the main entrance to the magnificent, two-million dollar Physical Science Building—scientific pride of the university. With its superb planetary observatory and huge seating capacity, this dream-come-true has been described by numerous educators as the finest and most modern building of its kind west of the Mississippi.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE BUILDING

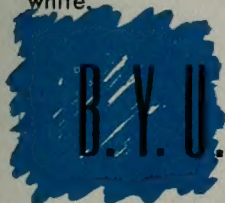

TRAINING BUILDING

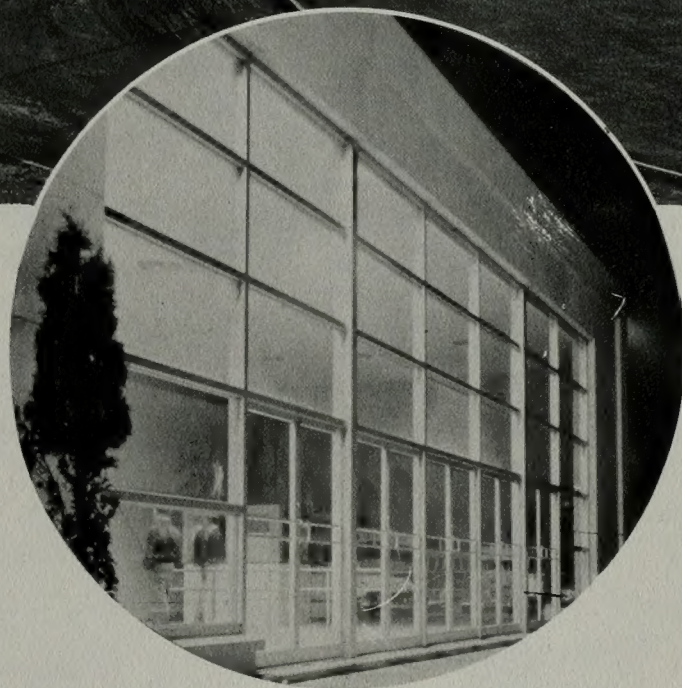

Athletic and recreational center of B.Y.U., the two-year-old fieldhouse is the largest physical education plant in the state of Utah and contains, besides complete athletic facilities, the offices of athletic directors and coaches. With a seating capacity of 10,000, this masterpiece of modern architecture doubles as a concert and assembly hall for the activities of a great studentbody and serves as headquarters for the "Cougars"—team of the blue-and-white.

FIELDHOUSE

Elementary and secondary education majors frequent the halls of the shaded Training Building on lower campus to capitalize on student teaching of kindergarten and grammar school youngsters.

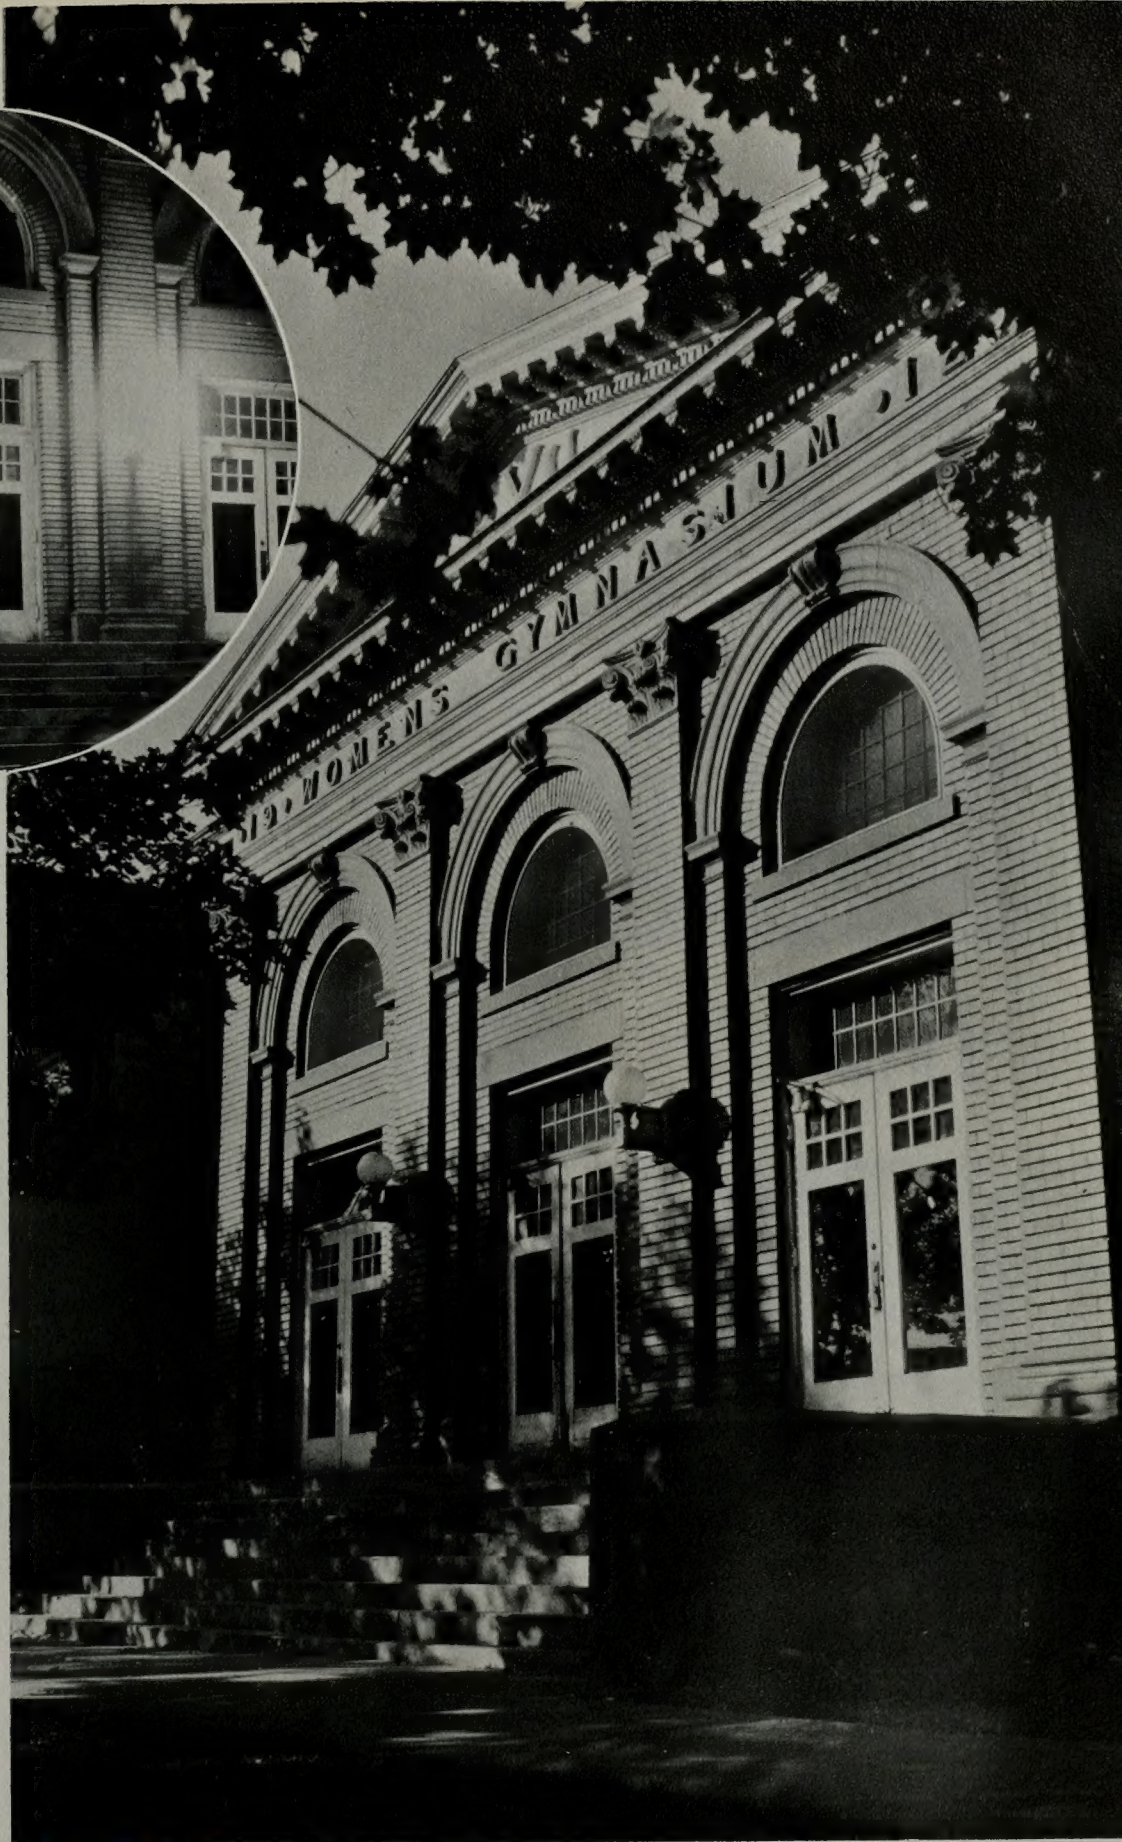

Something for the girls, the classic architecture of the Women's Gymnasium on lower campus provides an ideal setting for aiding active participation in women's athletics and sports training.

SOCIAL HALL

The success of campus matinee dances, banquets, parties, and semi-formals depends largely on the modern, spacious Social Hall where a host of entertainment provides unlimited fun for students and faculty and where music organizations utilize its acoustically perfect rehearsal rooms.

WOMEN'S GYMNASIUM

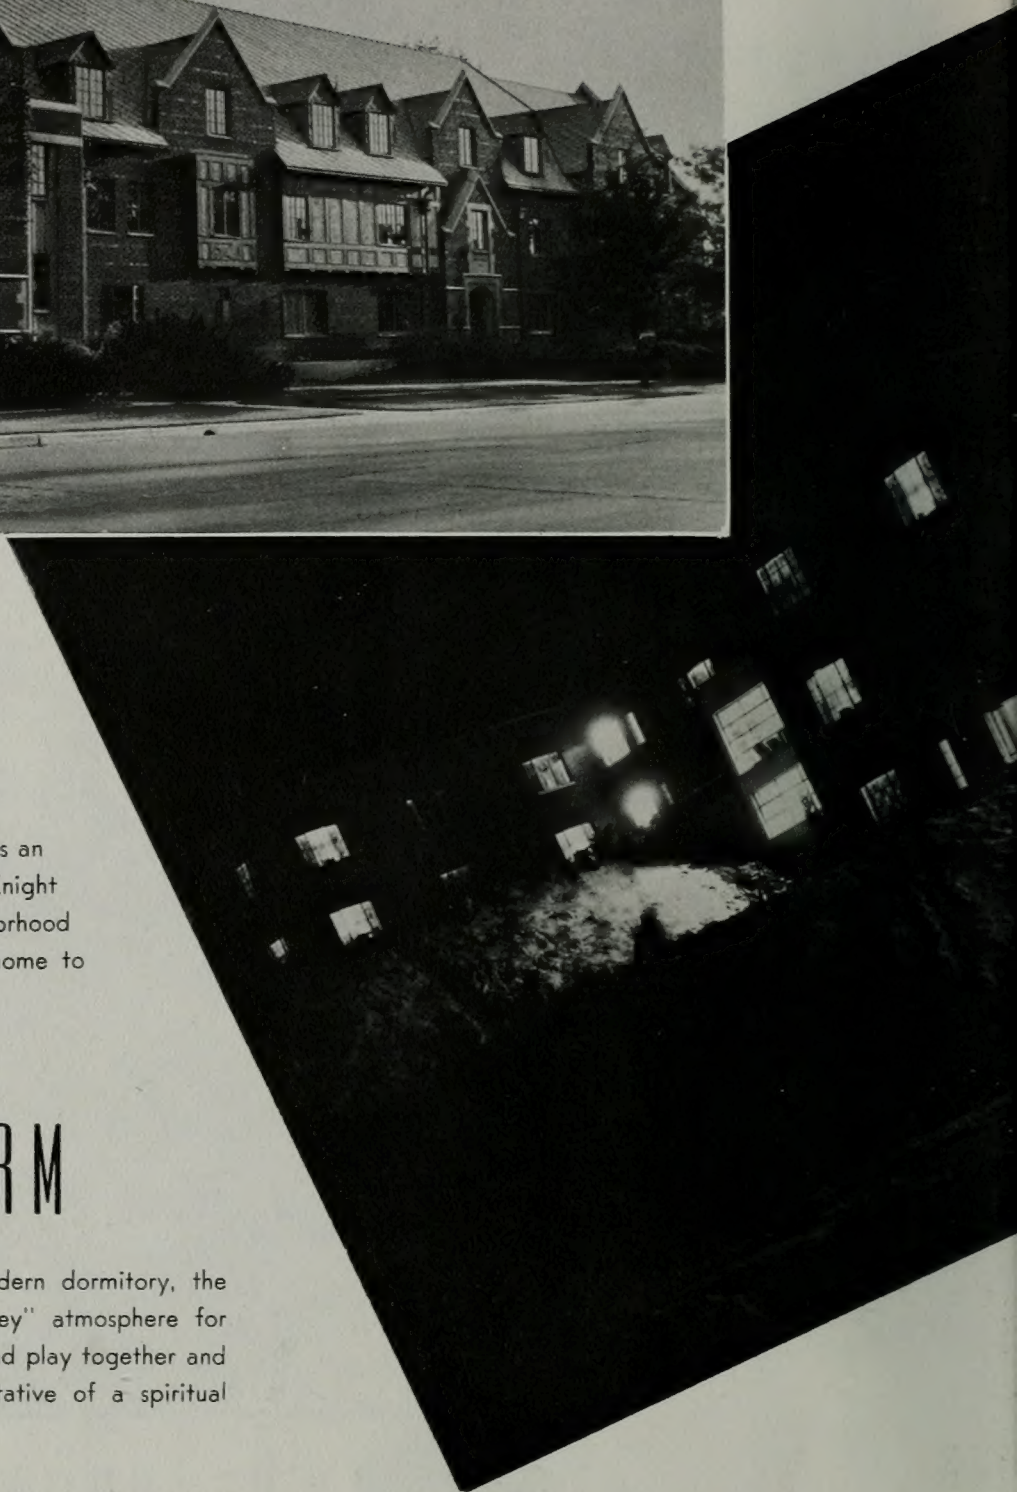

KNIGHT HALL

Gabled and as trim and conventional as an early colonial mansion, the Amanda Knight Hall is situated in an exclusive neighborhood on lower campus and is home-sweet-home to over 100 lovely campus co-eds.

CAMPUS DORM

The university's largest and most modern dormitory, the new Campus Dorm provides a "homey" atmosphere for nearly 400 girls who eat, sleep, work and play together and maintain the high standards representative of a spiritual university.

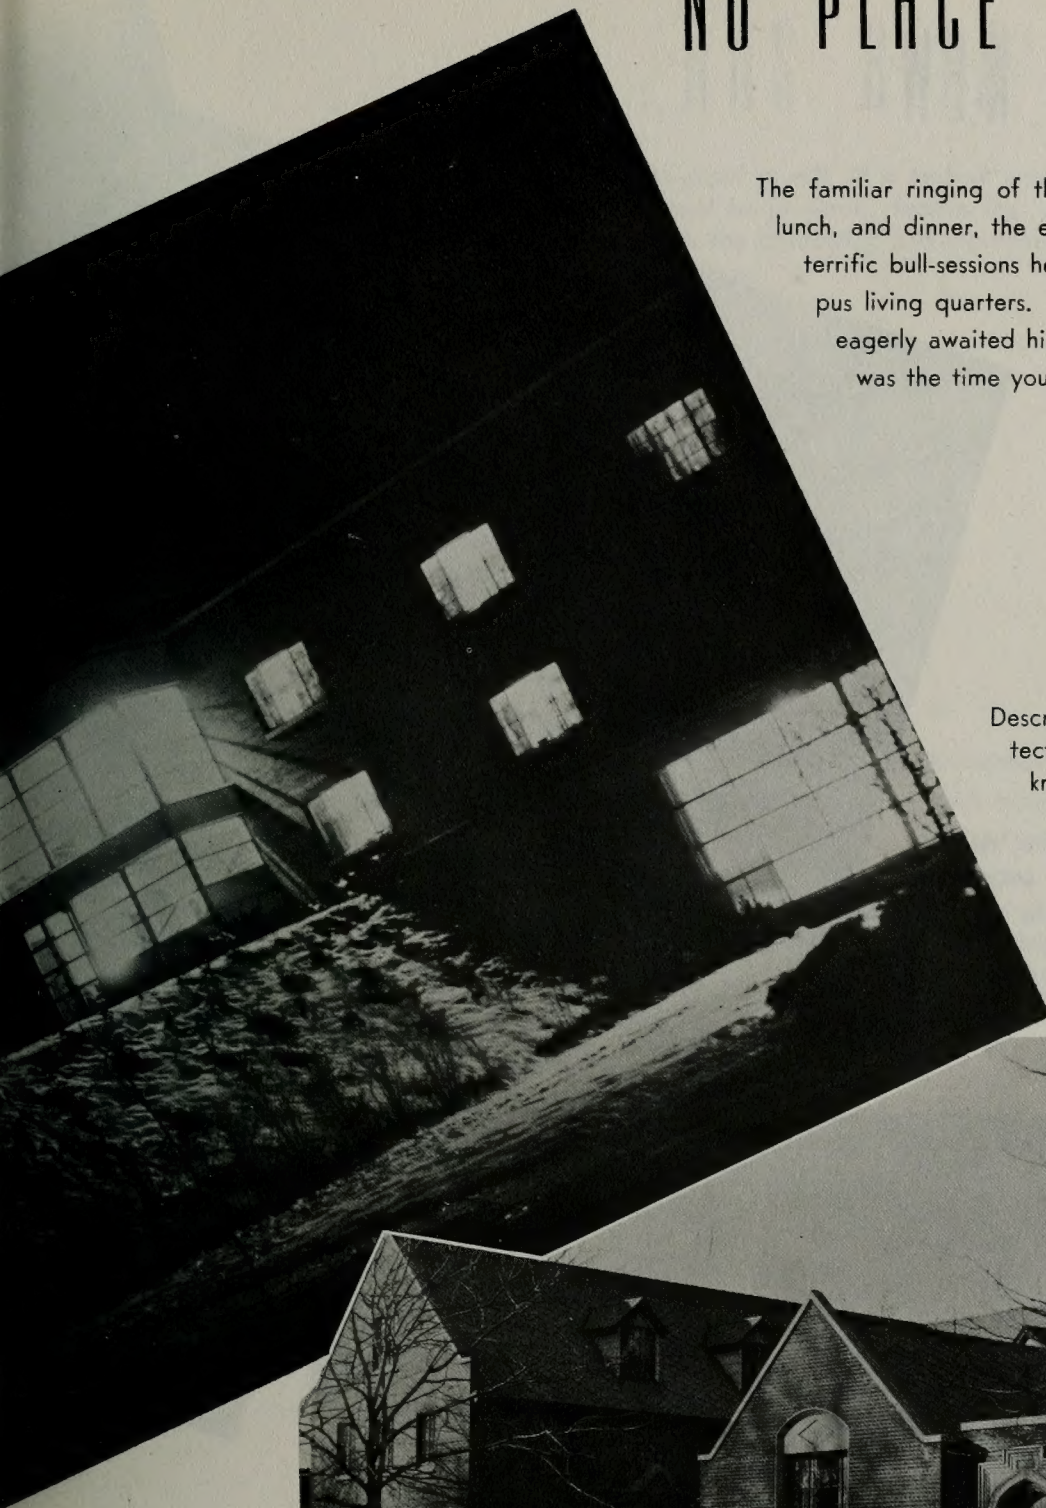

"NO PLACE LIKE HOME..."

The familiar ringing of the telephone, the call for breakfast, lunch, and dinner, the excitement of that first date and the terrific bull-sessions held nightly illustrate life in your campus living quarters. The dorm parties and firesides were eagerly awaited highlights of the year—and then there was the time you tried to study . . .

ALLEN HALL

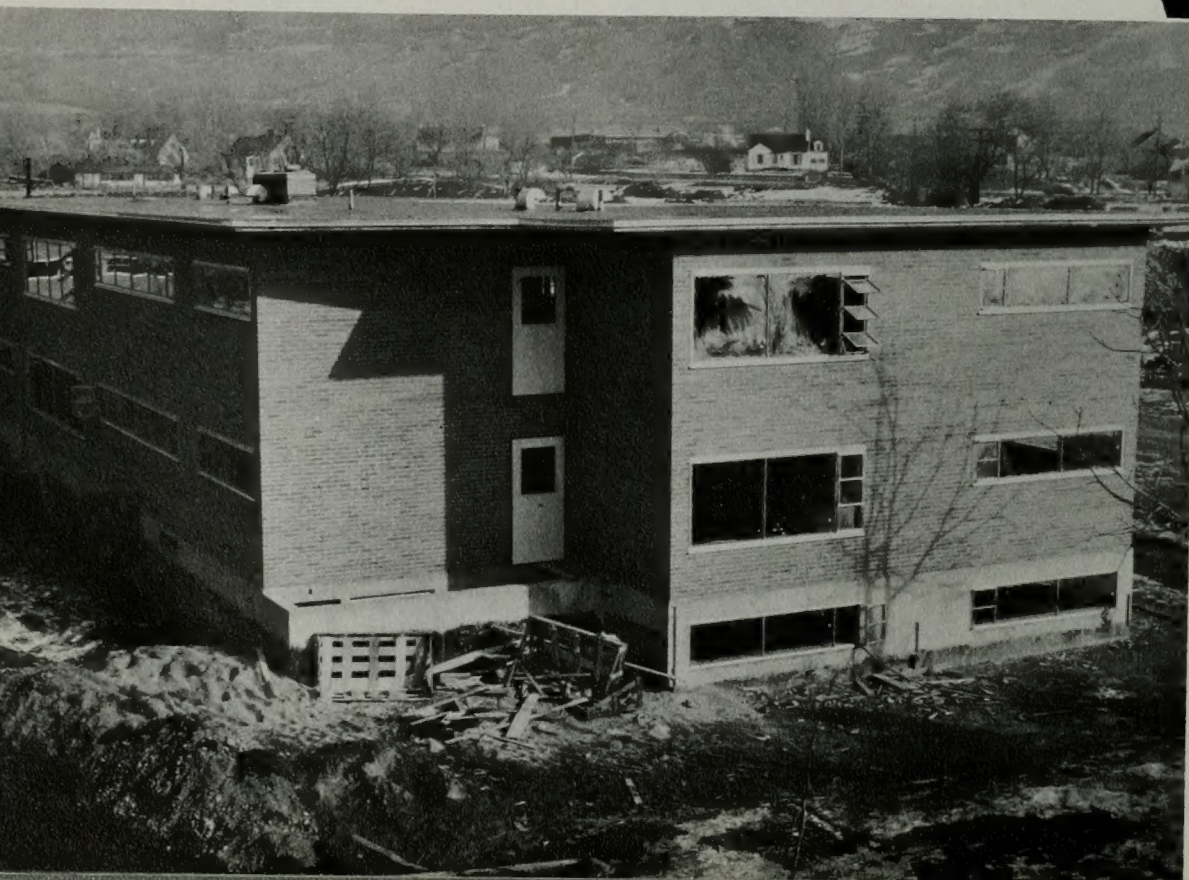

Descriptive of early New England architecture, the gabled, home-like structure known as Allen Hall houses nearly a hundred university women. Dorm parties and get-togethers furnish ample entertainment on week-ends and promote greater friendship among residents.

SOMETHING NEW

NEW MODERN APARTMENTS

Simple yet effective in structural design, the new apartment living quarters are entirely functional and completely modern in every detail. The solution to a serious housing shortage, the long-awaited buildings are capable of housing sixty students each.

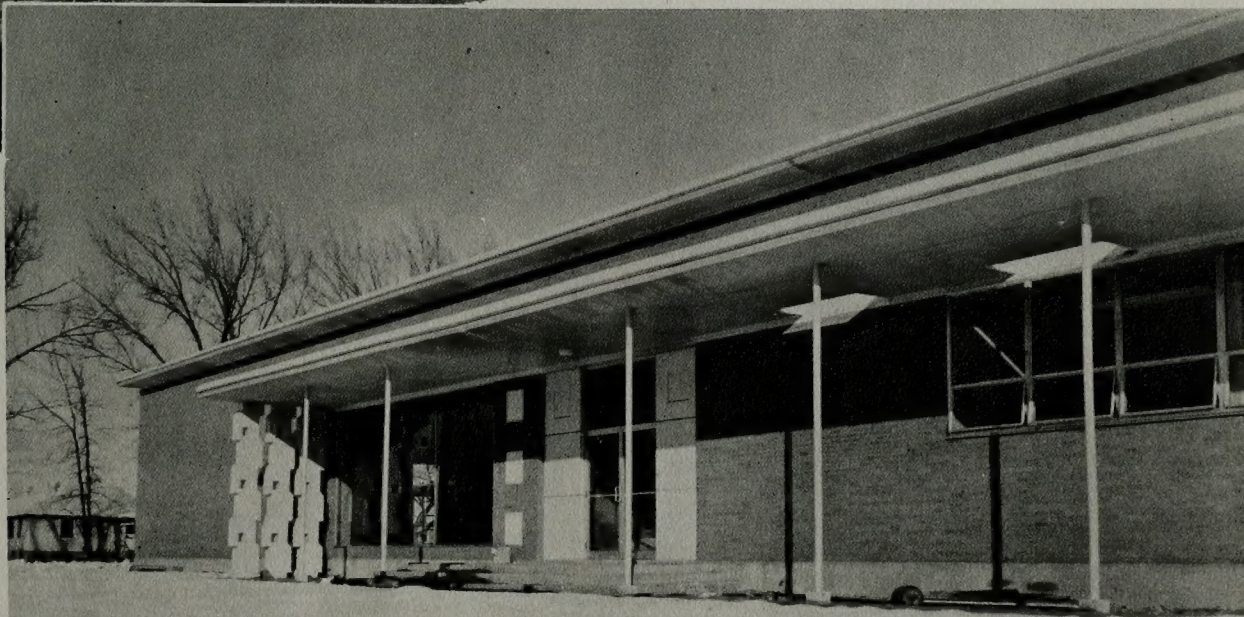

... HAS BEEN ADDED

Accompanying the rapid growth of a modern university, the erection of many new campus buildings must be provided. Besides the new fully equipped bookstore, the university now boasts the completion and maintenance of numerous new apartments above Wymount Village.

YOUR STUDENT SERVICE CENTER

Throughout the year, members of the university have expectantly awaited the completion of our brand new bookstore on upper campus. Landscaped beneath breath-taking "Y" Mountain, the ultra-modern structure contains complete textbook facilities as well as public relations offices and publication departments.

in other words, light and truth."

LEADERSHIP

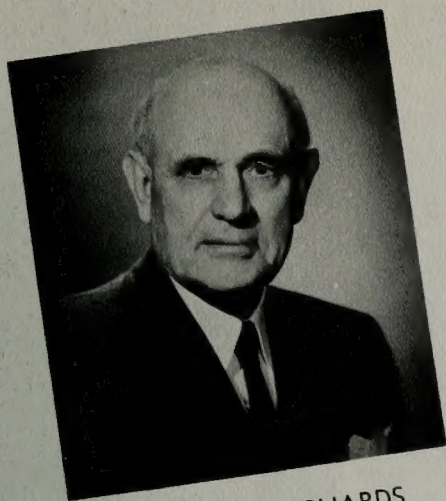

*President
David O. McKay*

A man of great responsibility, David O. McKay, beloved President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, is also Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Brigham Young University.

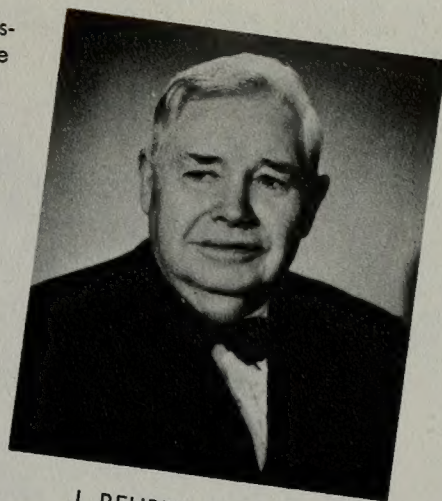

His cosmopolitan church and business travels here and abroad have given him an admirable reputation as a man of humble faith and complete sincerity among his fellow men.

Exemplifying leadership in its entirety, President McKay's striking countenance reflects the valiant efforts of a devoted educator and spiritual leader.

STEPHEN L. RICHARDS
First Vice-President

Exercising supervision over the administration and university functions, the Board of Trustees represents a leading group of educators who set the standards and determine the educational policies of a great, ever-growing university. The board, consisting of the First Presidency and Twelve Apostles of the Church plus two other noted members, was honored with the selection of Ezra Taft Benson to the office of Secretary of Agriculture by President Dwight D. Eisenhower at the turn of the new year.

YOUR PRESIDENT

Because of the complex problems of a growing university, the Board of Trustees in 1950 selected Dr. Ernest LeRoy Wilkinson as the new President of B.Y.U.

President Wilkinson, a descendent of converts from Scotland and Denmark, has had a rare combination of business, educational and Church experience. During the first year of his administration, faculty members began participating in Stake Conferences with the General Authorities of the Church; enrollment at the University increased over 16 per cent; courses in engineering science were authorized; a Director of Research and a permanent Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association were appointed and the Board of Trustees authorized construction of apartment dormitories to house 800 additional students.

From his admirable beginning in the practice of the law, President Wilkinson achieved a national reputation by obtaining judgments of some $32,000,000 for the Ute Indians, the largest judgment ever entered in the United States Court of Claims against the United States.

THE WILKINSONS

Indicative of the success of her husband, Alice L. Wilkinson is a guiding source of inspiration and is admired as the "First Lady" of Brigham Young University.

Mrs. Wilkinson and her distinguished family have gained the Love and friendship of university students and faculty and have come to know Provo and the B.Y.U. campus as home.

Actively engaged in Church, school, and civic affairs, she is as interested in maintaining the high ideals of the university and its achievements as her prominent husband.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

Director of the Committee on special services, counseling, student health, admission on credits, athletics, part-time employment and general scholarship, Dean Wesley Parkinson Lloyd also serves as counselor to student organizations, publications, and housing. As a result of a recent year in Japan working in student personnel service, Dean Lloyd has written and published a book entitled Student Counselling in Japan.

Friendly Dean Lloyd believes that every student should be given a balanced education, in and out of the classroom, and as Dean of Students, he has won the honorable reputation of a man gifted with student and administrative leadership abilities.

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT

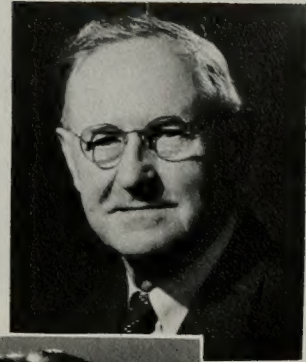

Experienced in western college administrative affairs, Dr. Harvey L. Taylor comes to the University as Executive Assistant to the President.

Dr. Taylor, who will handle university business during the President's absence, has become familiar with public school systems throughout Arizona, Idaho, and Utah, and is an old friend to the B.Y.U. campus.

ADMINISTRATORS

Administrators and special services committees consist of full-time university leaders who are responsible for academic and non-academic activities on campus. Committee members act as counselors to various student organizations and perform the necessary tasks conducive to a smooth functioning of campus affairs.

YOUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT ...

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

LEROY PORTER
Studentbody President

Recognized by their white sweaters, friendly smiles and hearty "hellos," the members of the B.Y.U. Executive Council each carried a major responsibility in student government. As a group they prepared suggestions to be presented before the Legislative Council, and represented the university at student leader meetings in San Jose and at Logan besides entertaining visiting delegations from Montana, Wyoming, U.S.A.C. and Utah. They also helped inaugurate the first inter-collegiate leadership conference to promote better understanding and the sharing of good ideas among schools.

OLENE SMITH
First Vice-President

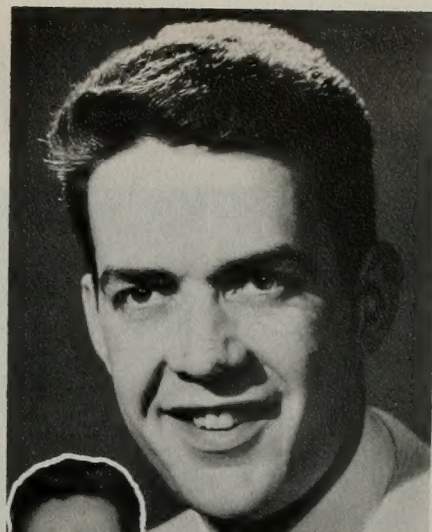

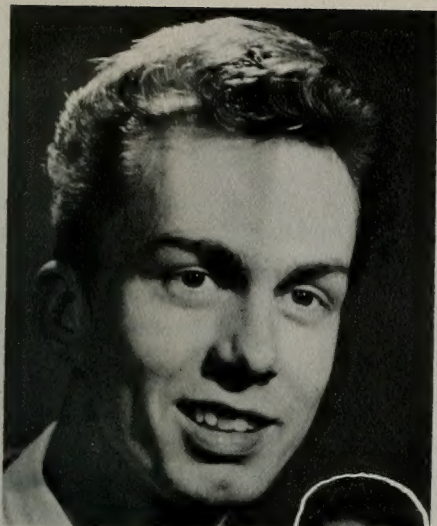

LEROY PORTER—friendly, personable studentbody president who worked earnestly at providing the necessary drive behind the smooth-running efficiency of student activities.

OLENE SMITH—popular, hard-working young first vice-president devoted to supervising assembly entertainment and raising standards and interest in campus talent programs.

BOB HOLMAN—conscientious second vice-president and sociable social chairman who succeeded in producing bigger and better pep rallies and dances than ever.

CAROLYN EDWARDS—charming young secretary with a winning smile and cheerful greeting who gained the love and respect of all who knew her and compiled a more colorful history of school activities for the year.

FRED MONEY—smiling young business manager who maintained itemized accounts of all expenditures and balanced studentbody financial records.

representing every large organization on campus, members of the Legislative Council acted as the mainspring of Brigham Young University's student government. Studentbody President LeRoy Porter presided over bi-monthly meetings in which important constitutional proposals were thoroughly discussed in considering applicability to campus functions.

"Without honesty, ordinance availeth nothing.

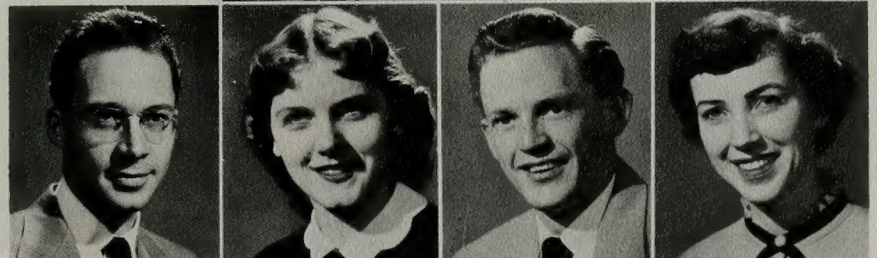

Education divorced from honesty is a menace to mankind . . ." so spoke President George H. Brimhall in the early history of the University. The B.Y.U. Honor System symbolizes a spirit and a way of living, and functions upon individual and group responsibility. Through the Honor System the ideals of honesty and morality become a more significant influence in the lives of students and faculty.

COLLEGES

You, as a student in the College of Applied Science, learned to make use of practical knowledge relating to farm, home, shop, and agricultural and industrial art professions. Inspired by energetic capabilities of Dean Thomas L. Martin, you were encouraged to become the world's leaders in Agronomy, Animal Husbandry, Bacteriology, Home Economics, Horticulture and Landscape Architecture, and Industrial Arts.

Hand-broaching and metal tooling create problems of minute timing and precision in the department's well-equipped industrial machine shops.

Bacteriologists experiment with germ-ridden solutions and prepare possible inoculations for existing media.

The pleasant aroma of freshly baked bread . . . the clean crispness of new linen garments . . . these are prominent features of the department of home economics. Home Economics offers instruction in the fields of clothing and textiles, food and nutrition, and household administration for girls planning to major in the subject. Clean, comfortable laboratories and modern spacious kitchens promote excellent opportunities for a comprehensive application of the techniques desired in the department.

Cool mountain streams and green fields of fresh pasture grass help produce the fine herds of dairy cattle owned by the University's famous dairy farm.

Learning to "sew your own" is made pleasant and profitable in textiles and clothing classes.

AG CLUB

DAN HEAP
President

The Ag Club's purpose, here at the Y, is to create an active interest in agriculture and animal industries. Having well over a hundred members, the group achieves this goal by sponsoring speakers in various agronomical professions and field trips to surrounding farming areas. A harvest ball, barn dance, spring dinner dance, and co-op hop supply the group's social needs.

Speed, accuracy, and a knack for handling figures help to develop skilled operators of business machines for general office experience in commercial careers.

Future court reporters learn shorthand speedbuilding and transcription and are timed by courteous, helpful instructors for increased writing speed.

OF COMMERCE

Striving for efficiency and excellence in the field of business, you endeavored to achieve these courses of Accounting, Agricultural Economics, Business Administration, Economics, Finance and Banking, Marketing, and Secretarial Training. Through your extensive training under Dean William F. Edwards, you prepared yourself for desired professions, interests, and office administrations.

Marketing and other business administration classes serve as an excellent background for students majoring in the department who find it convenient or desirable to obtain employment for on-the-job experience in merchandising, retailing and advertising.

Speed-building and accuracy depend on long practice in mastering the techniques of typewriting. Classes in stenography, typing and secretarial training prepare future business leaders for professional careers.

L.D.S. BUSINESS COLLEGE BRANCH

KENNETH S. BENNION
Director

The year 1953 witnessed the addition of the LDS Business College to Brigham Young University's excellent facilities. Located near Temple Square in downtown Salt Lake City, the college offers classes in secretarial, stenographic, accounting, business management and office fields.

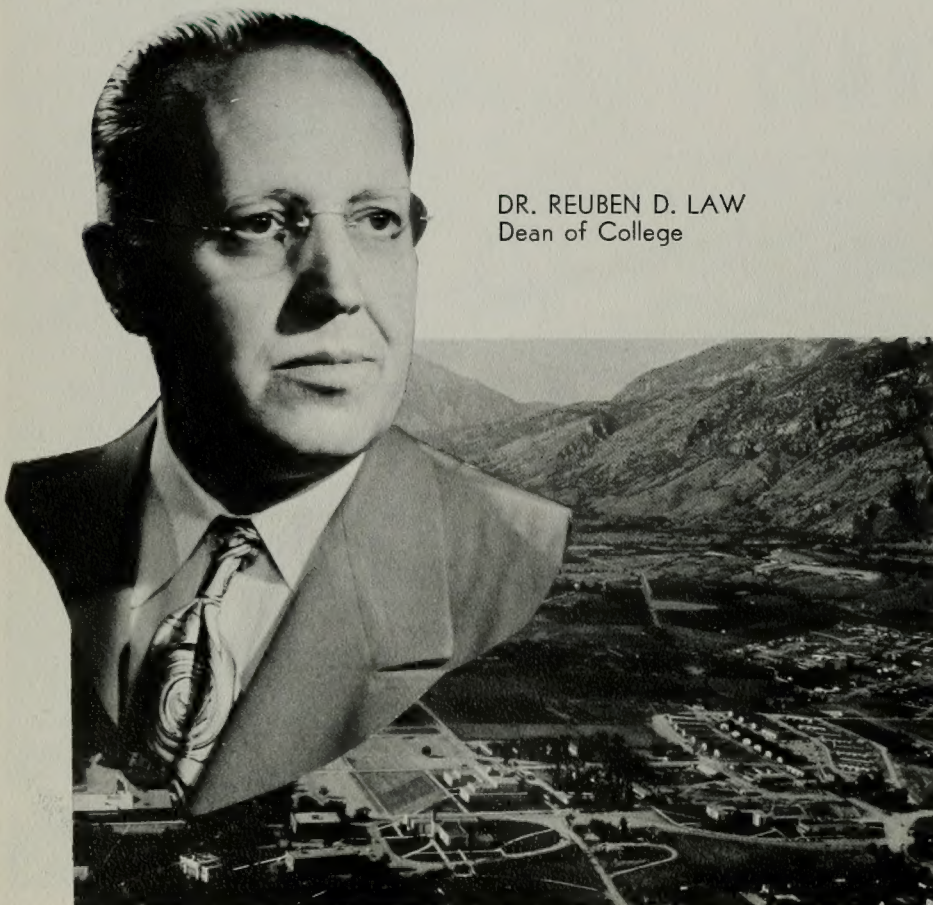

Student teachers capitalize on local experience in grammar school and high schools. Furnished with a good background in education, they are better qualified for a later career in student teaching.

Admission to the College of Education is granted by selection through the committee on admissions and credits, consisting of trained leaders of the department.

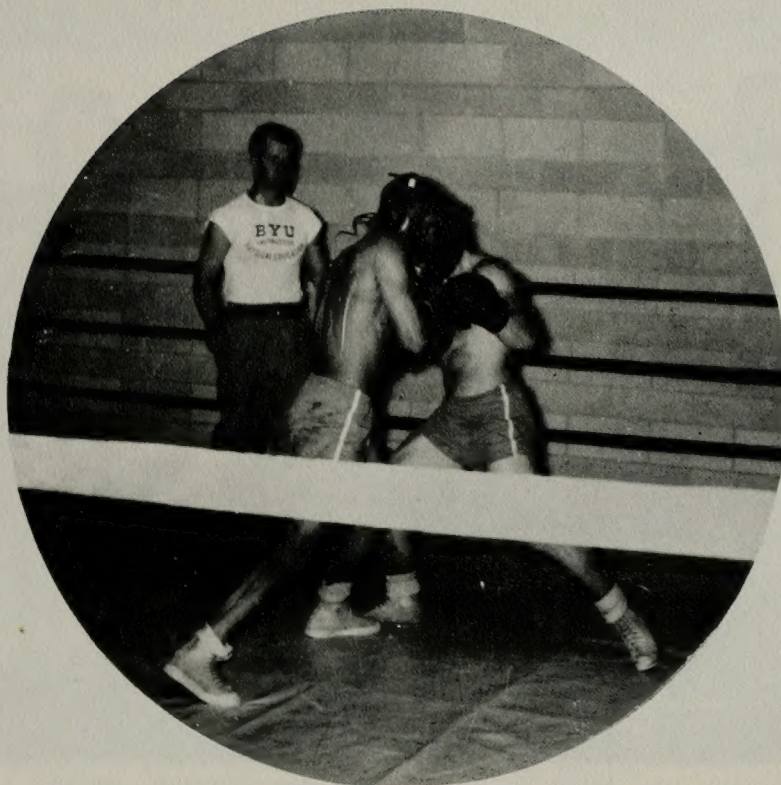

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

DR. REUBEN D. LAW
Dean of College

Success in courses listed under the College of Education qualified you to become a teacher in Utah, neighboring states, and even other nations of the world, that through education, the world might unite. In addition to learning and practicing basic skills, your responsibilities included setting a good example in integrity, morality and civic requirements from the time you became a student teacher until you found yourself established as a professional.

For fun—for health—for a career: Physical Education remains at the top of the popularity list for classes in the College of Education. Baseball, basketball, football, wrestling, muscle building—only a few of the prominent sports classes available. Recreation furnishes the pause that refreshes in tennis, group dancing, and swimming. For substantial physical and mental health, invigorating exercise rises as a prominent supplement to the student's curriculum.

Teaching the younger generation sometimes has its problems, but for prospective student teachers, the occupation enjoys increased interest.

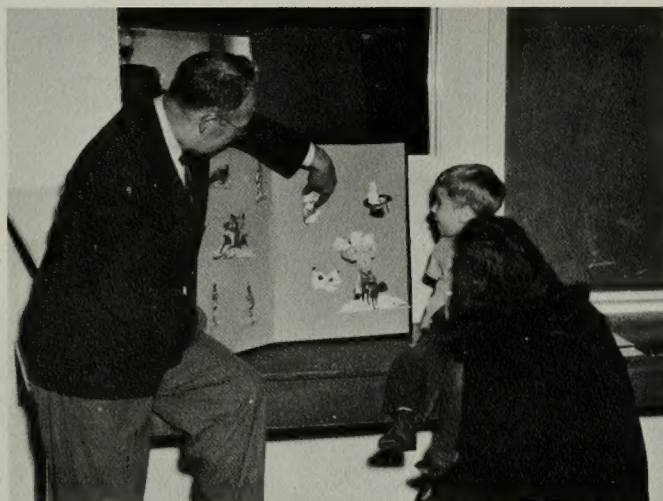

National representatives are frequent campus visitors who interview possible applicants for teaching positions in desirable locations.

Self-expression and vivid portrayals of life are achieved in dramatic university stage productions as shown in a scene from "Hamlet," typical of the theatre presentations of the year.

OF FINE ARTS

The College of Fine Arts integrates cultural appreciation into the regular academic courses of college study. You, as a major in art, music, or speech, now have the ability to give your talents to others because of your personal endeavor and the professional instruction and encouragement offered through this college supervised by Dean Gerrit de Jong, Jr.

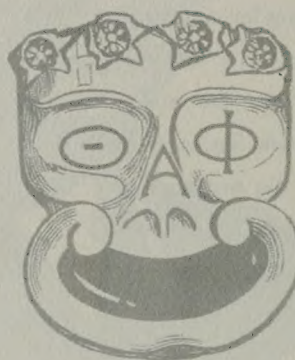

Comprehensive criticism of student creations is given by leading professors of the art department. Still-life sketches, modern art, realism and surrealism, and drawings from life present material for interesting sessions in art appreciation surveys.

THETA ALPHA PHI

Madrigal singing originated in Germany during a period between the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries when townspeople gathered in groups around a lace-covered table to sing ballads and folk songs in the cheerful glow of candle light. Dr. John R. Halliday, head of B.Y.U.'s Music Department, reorganized the Madrigal Singers on campus as a result of his recent two-year music study in Europe. The group is composed of twenty-four selected voices, and during the year toured Canada and Southern Utah, participated in several concerts, and staged numerous parties including a fun-packed week-end tobogganing trip to Dr. Halliday's cabin on Mount Timp-anogos.

Newly organized this year, the College Choir gave opportunity to many younger singers who desired advanced training in choral singing. By presenting a number of appearances on campus and at General Conferences in Salt Lake City, it achieved a fine reputation. A formal concert in May capped the choir's activity.

KBYU, student operated radio station on campus, exists primarily to give practical experience to those entering the field of radio professionally. Early in fall quarter a broken transmitter caused broadcasts to be temporarily halted. However, activities soon continued through the "Campus Crier" on KOVO in Provo. Inspiring devotionals were heard each Wednesday over the air waves of KBYU.

McCUNE SCHOOL OF MUSIC AND ART

N. LORENZO MITCHELL
Director

BYU gained a refined addition to the College of Fine Arts by the inclusion of the McCune School of Music and Art in Salt Lake City. Organized and conducted to disseminate education in music and allied arts, the school provides such courses as will insure students of becoming proficient in performance, sound in knowledge, and ethical in conduct.

You enrolled in the school of nursing and began training early for fascinating positions and valuable opportunities in hospitals, public health, private practice, education and research. You learned the technique, efficiency, sympathy, tact and understanding necessary for meeting nursing problems. With confidence you now face the future, for you have chosen a most satisfactory and rewarding profession. You are to be women in white—nurses.

OF NURSING

Maternity ward experience produces capable young nurses for work in maternity hospitals, delivery rooms of baby hospitals, or suitable qualifications for general hospital employment.

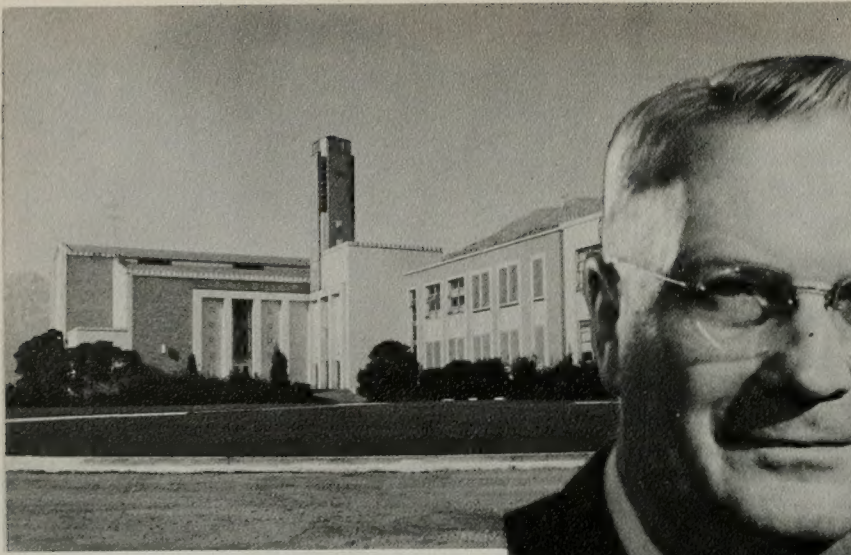

Child training classes are available for student nurses who plan careers in Children's hospitals.

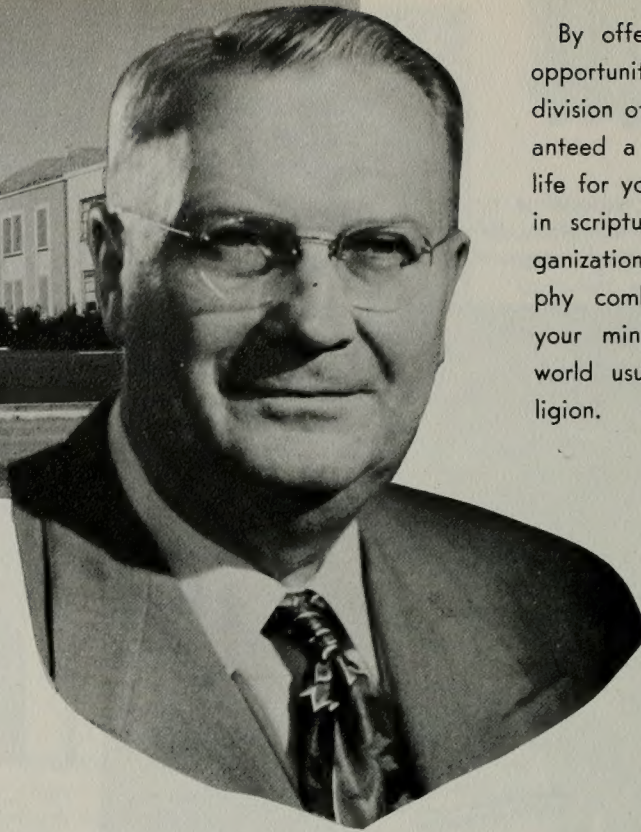

Nurses' uniforms must be designed, and artistic students of the department produce some of the proposed creations.

Paper work and record keeping are necessary for smooth efficiency in hospital occupations. Students are given complete instructions on proper paper procedure for a comprehensive knowledge of complex medical terms.

SIDNEY B. SPERRY
Religion Director

By offering extensive religious opportunities and instruction, the division of religion at the Y guaranteed a fuller and more stable life for you, its students. Courses in scripture, Church history, organization, theology, and philosophy combined to remove from your minds the uncertainty the world usually associates with religion.

DIVISION OF RELIGION

Religious opportunities are afforded for promoting our knowledge of the Gospel in church . . .

. . . and in the classroom.

CAMPUS

CAMPUS BRANCH PRESIDENCY: John D. Burnett, First Counselor; Scott A. Speakman, President; Newell K. Richardson, Second Counselor.

The Campus Branch was organized as a part of East Provo Stake on October 19, 1947 to become a part of student life on campus. The spirit maintained in the Branch is the result of enthusiasm and love for the Church that is brought from the wards and branches throughout the world. The great fundamental principal of service is the activating force of the Branch. The Sunday School, M.I.A., Relief Society, Genealogy Committee and the Servicemen's Committee, while providing activity for students, serve worthy purposes and bring joy, satisfaction and an enduring testimony of the divinity of the great latter-day work revealed to the world through the Prophet Joseph Smith.

RELIEF SOCIETY OFFICERS: Lynn Tucker, Betty Jean Skousen, President; Monagene Dudding, and Maxine Read.

Lambda Delta Sigma is the official fraternity of the Latter-day Saint Church and has nine chapters on the Brigham Young University campus. Members enjoy meetings sponsoring Church authorities and faculty members as speakers, a quarterly formal dance, and exchange parties with chapters from other schools, in addition to individual chapter functions and inter-chapter functions and inter-chapter exchange parties. These activities further brotherhood, intellectuality, leadership, religious life, and culture—the ideals of the fraternity.

GRADUATE

After graduating with a Bachelor's Degree, you came back for more study in your major field of interest. To gain your degree, you made surveys, gathered information, conducted research, and maintained that all-important "B" grade average. You were the graduate student.

A brand new box of colored pencils, and you were back in the saddle for more of the same.

Giving up on English altogether, you decided to learn a spicy foreign lingo.

SCHOOL

DR. CHRISTEN JENSEN
Dean of College

The search that never ends, experimental chemistry promotes research and supplies ample opportunity for graduate work on masters' degrees.

An outdoor sport for graduate geologists, plane table mapping requires split-second precision and demands accurate survey analysis.

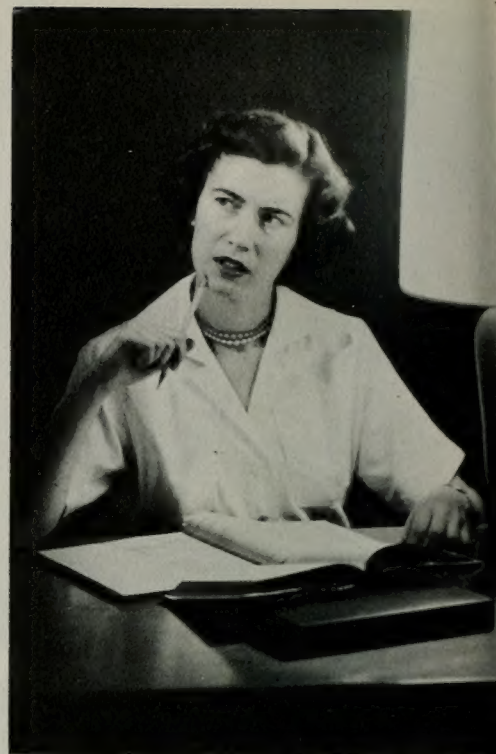

EXTENSION DIVISION

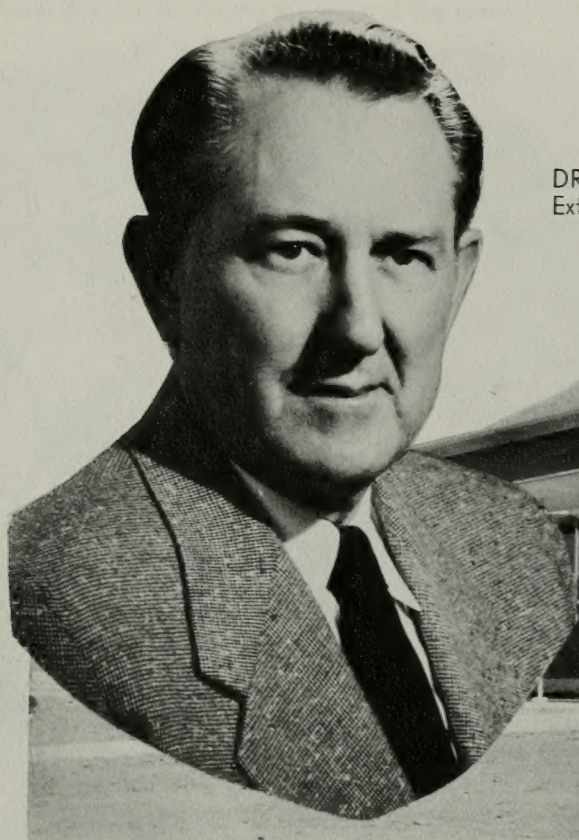

"Going to college" at home is made simple and practical for those unable to attend campus classes. The Extension Division acts as middleman between the student and the university in providing ample opportunities for home study.

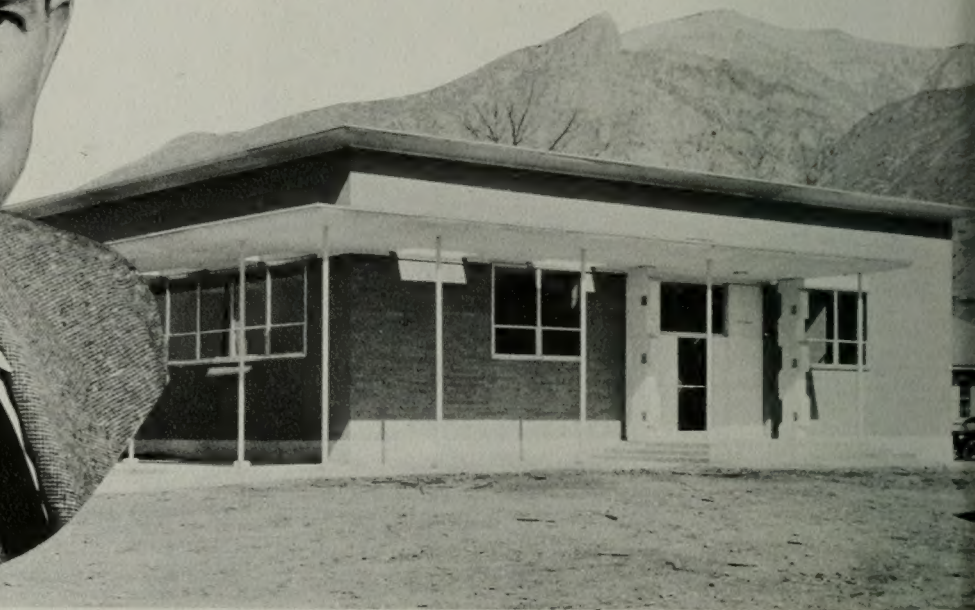

The department of Audio-Visual Aids is a new distinguishing feature of the extension division. Locally filmed educational motion pictures for class and civic use are produced and directed by professional film executives of the university.

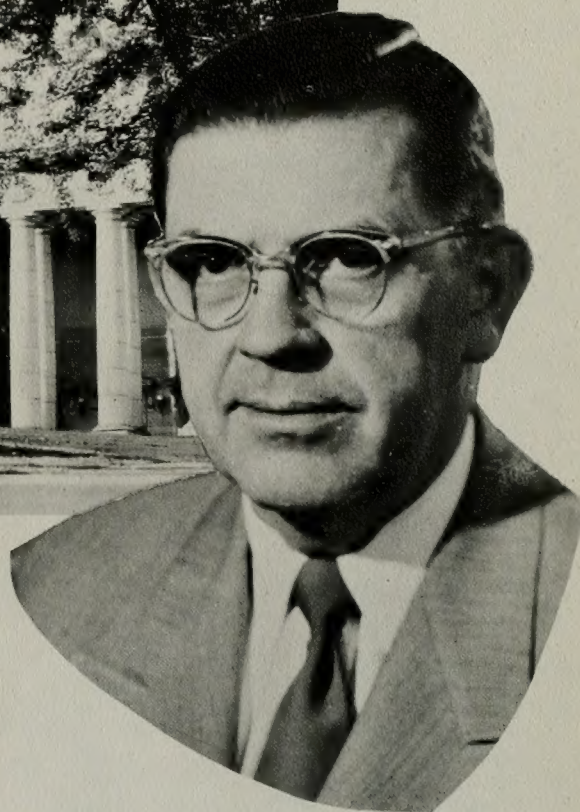

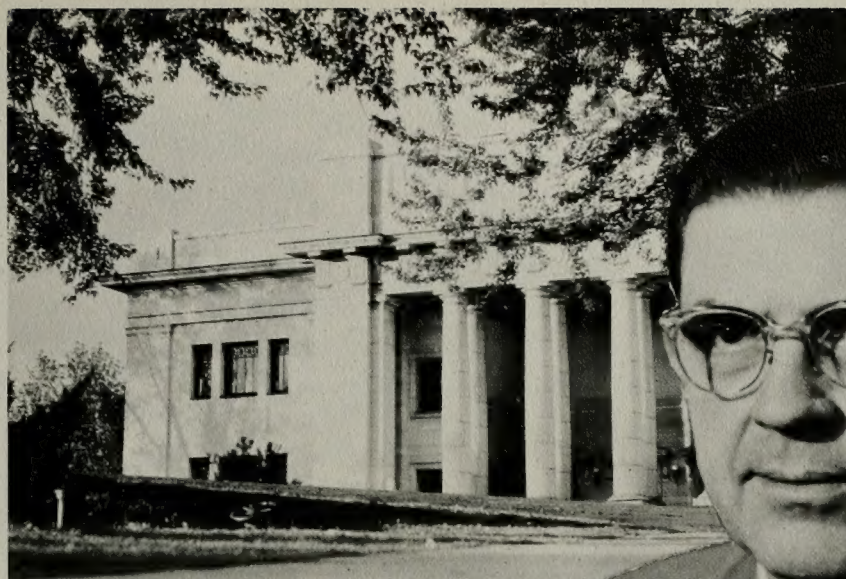

The Extension Division was instituted to expand the education of anyone desiring to continue his education outside of regular college classes. Its services include extension classes, audio-visual aids service, speaker service, evening school, and leadership institutes. As a regular part of the leadership program, an annual leadership week is held which attracts visitors from throughout the state.

DR. HAROLD GLEN CLARK
Extension Division Director

You who remained on campus during the summer found a full quarter of work offered in all schools and colleges. Most of your classes were given on the main Provo campus, but you who were interested in Zoology, Botany, and Geology attended classes at the Alpine Campus on the eastern slopes of Mount Timpanogos. Convocation was conducted at the close of the summer so that ambitious students could graduate in three years.

ARIEL S. BALLIF
Dean of Summer School

Above: Baccalaureate services and commencement exercises for Summer School graduates are held at the end of each summer term. Students participate in devotional programs and guest speakers from the Council of the Twelve offer rich spiritual invocation. Right: Dramatic presentations are a part of the Summer school project in the speech department.

ACTIVITIES

A freshman blinked in bewilderment at the new campus and winced at long, strange faces around him. "Can this be another world?" he asked himself . . .

He saw someone painting a big welcome sign with red paint . . . the hello week assembly was the best he'd ever seen . . . his legs trembled as he danced her out on the floor . . . golly, people from all over the world!

SEPTEMBER-- WELL, HERE WE GO AGAIN!

ORIENTATION

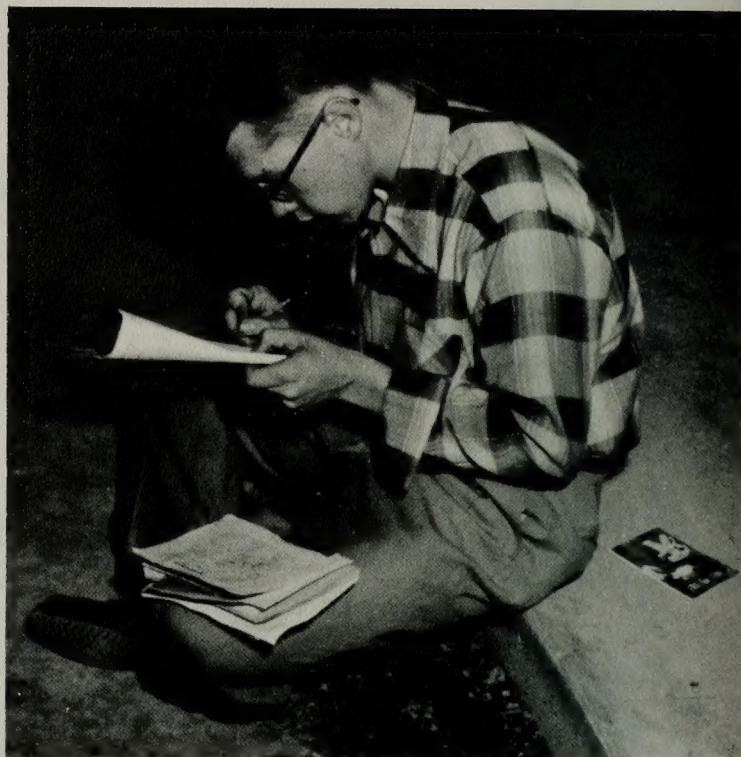

Ahhh—Orientation Week! Just what you needed for that extra "lift" in becoming familiar with a new and entirely different kind of education. The books and teachers were still there, but things like social units, "batching" it, and having every class in a different building were novel and exciting. It was fun to chew gum in class for the first time or go downtown in the middle of the day. Mom and Dad were really glad to hear how much you enjoyed college life so far . . . then you took a test.

The botany pond had to be cleaned so that fellow-freshmen who shirked their whitewashing duties could be dunked by "friendly" upperclassmen.

REGISTRATION RAMPAGE

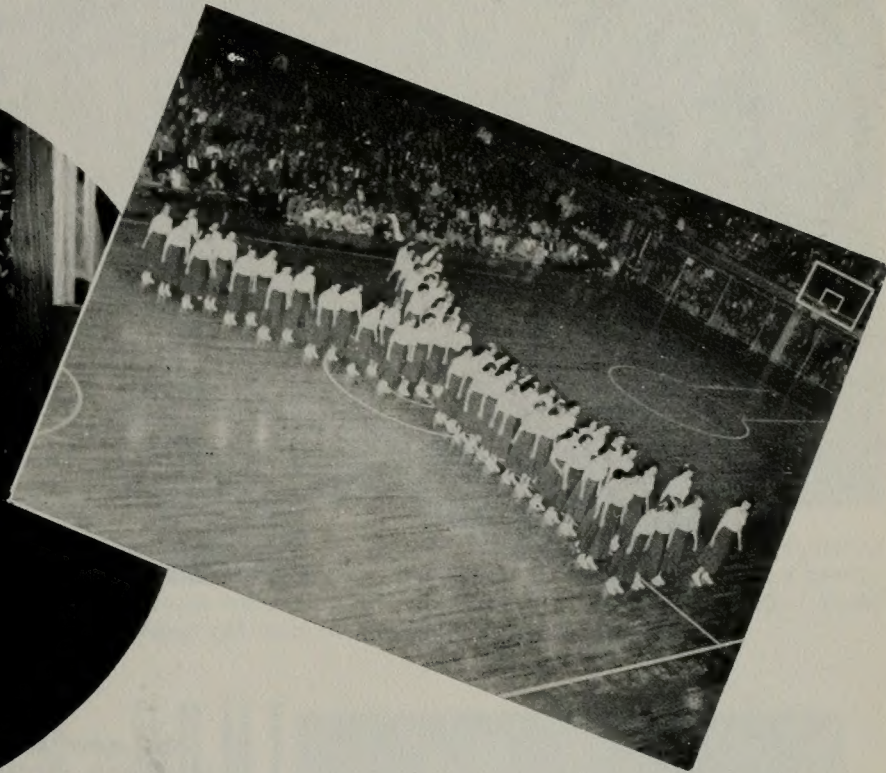

You signed a card, shook a hand, and were finally on your way through lines and streams of other kids. A friendly gent said he was your counselor and gave some advice on classes. You changed them around five times and finally got so disgusted that you decided to take bandage rolling. You waded through a forest of faces and plunked down your tuition money—then you went home to bed.

HOMESICKNESS- A THING OF THE PAST

President Wilkinson was right there to shake hands as you entered registration doors. The Cougarettes marched off in fine "Y" formation. Friends gathered to chat between classes about old times. The girls at B.Y.U. were not only pretty but friendly and intelligent, too!

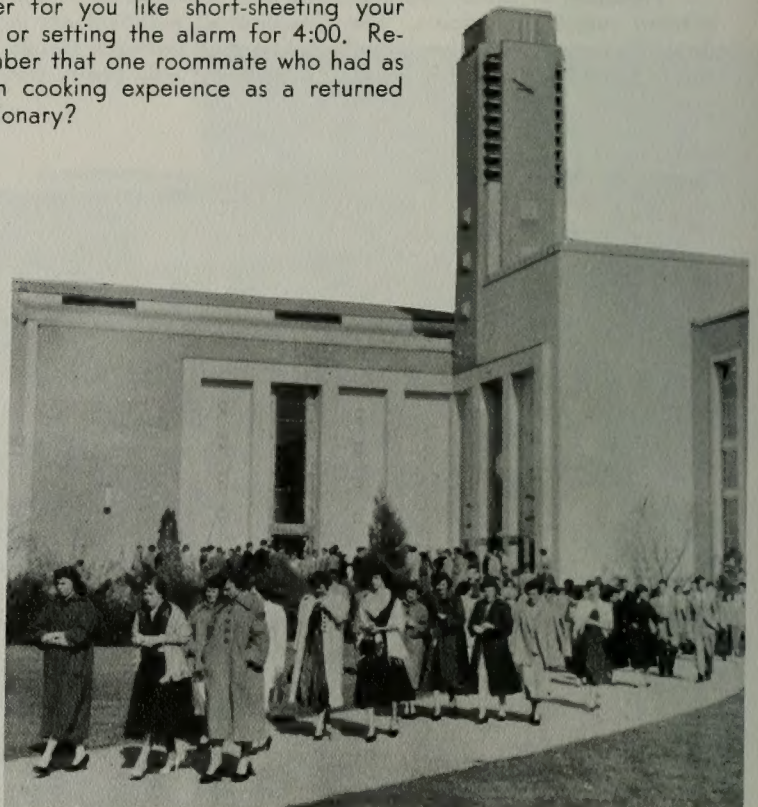

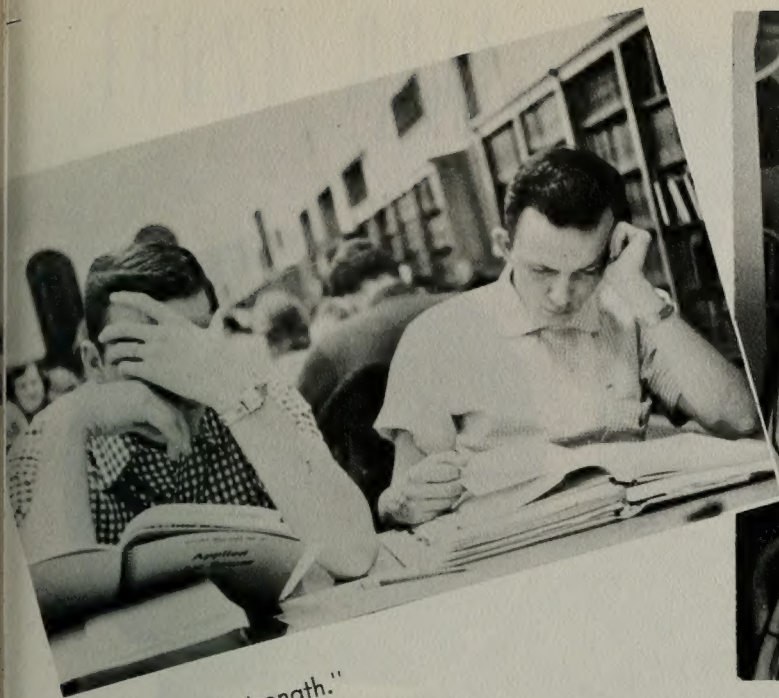

JUST PICTURE A PENTHOUSE...

Now down to the happy home-lives of students at the "Y." In the dorm, the apartments and basements—lovable roommates who were quiet, obedient, and would do anything to make life easier for you like short-sheeting your bed or setting the alarm for 4:00. Remember that one roommate who had as much cooking experience as a returned missionary?

Home from an exciting date at the film classic . . . "gee, I wonder why he's such a pill?" Sunday on the hill led to a richer, more spiritual conception of life.

"Give me strength."

And then I sez to him: "You're absolutely crazy not to eat at our deluxe cafeteria," and he sez to me: "naw, we got a bettter set-up batchin'!" Can you imagine the nerve? Why, I could never get used to home cookin' again, could you?

YOUR OWN DREAM HOME

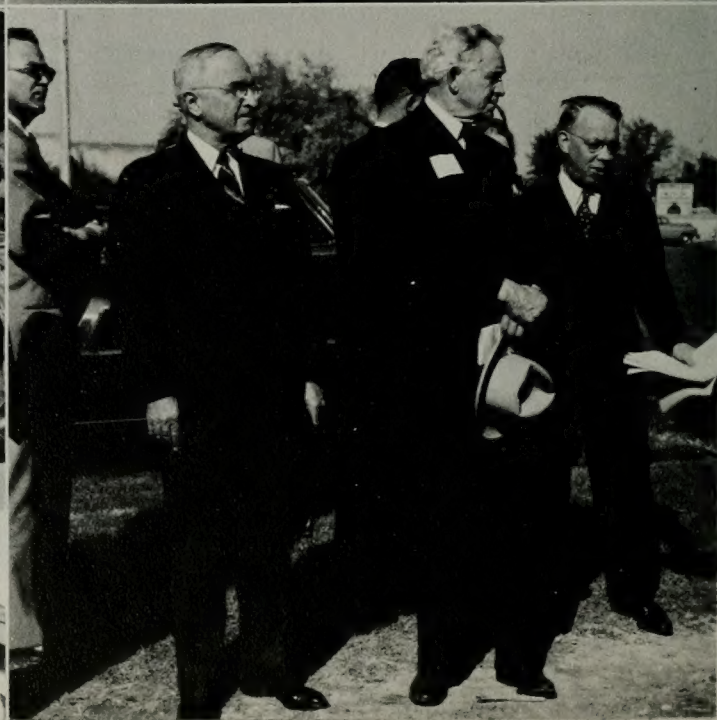

Up bright and early in your new basement apartment. Then for a scrumptious breakfast! Someone must've written the receipts wrong. Oh, well, burnt toast makes curly hair, mom used to say. One of your room-mates was a real gourmet—remember? And a real glutton, too, you thought. By the end of the year, though, you all made Betty Crocker look sick—real Aunt Jeminas of the electric stove!

OCTOBER-- REMEMBER YOUR FIRST DATE?

A wiser and happier freshman bravely set forth dressed in a clever baby cougar outfit to shine shoes, sing school songs off-key, and climb the long trail to the "Y" for a glory-filled day of weed cutting.

Everyone was all lit up at the torchlight parade . . . a fiery Halloween dance chased all the witches and goblins away . . . pumpkins and cats set the stage for the witching hour dance . . . for heaven's sake—President Truman looked just like he did in the movies!

FROSH DAZE

Through the initiation mill, and suddenly you were a campus citizen. Upperclassmen were real friendly and said 'hello' or 'hi,' and when you finished shining their shoes, they let you carry their books to lower campus. A new world of friends, facts and figures soon opened, and through its shining gates marched the freshmen for the most glorious experience of their lives as students of B.Y.U.

Frederick Gulda, famed concert pianist, gave a thrilling performance as the University Lyceum series reopened. You had your first opportunity to enjoy musical artistry at its finest.

Flaming torches down University Avenue meant that the spirit of the "Y" had once again returned as you prepared for a gala 1952 Homecoming.

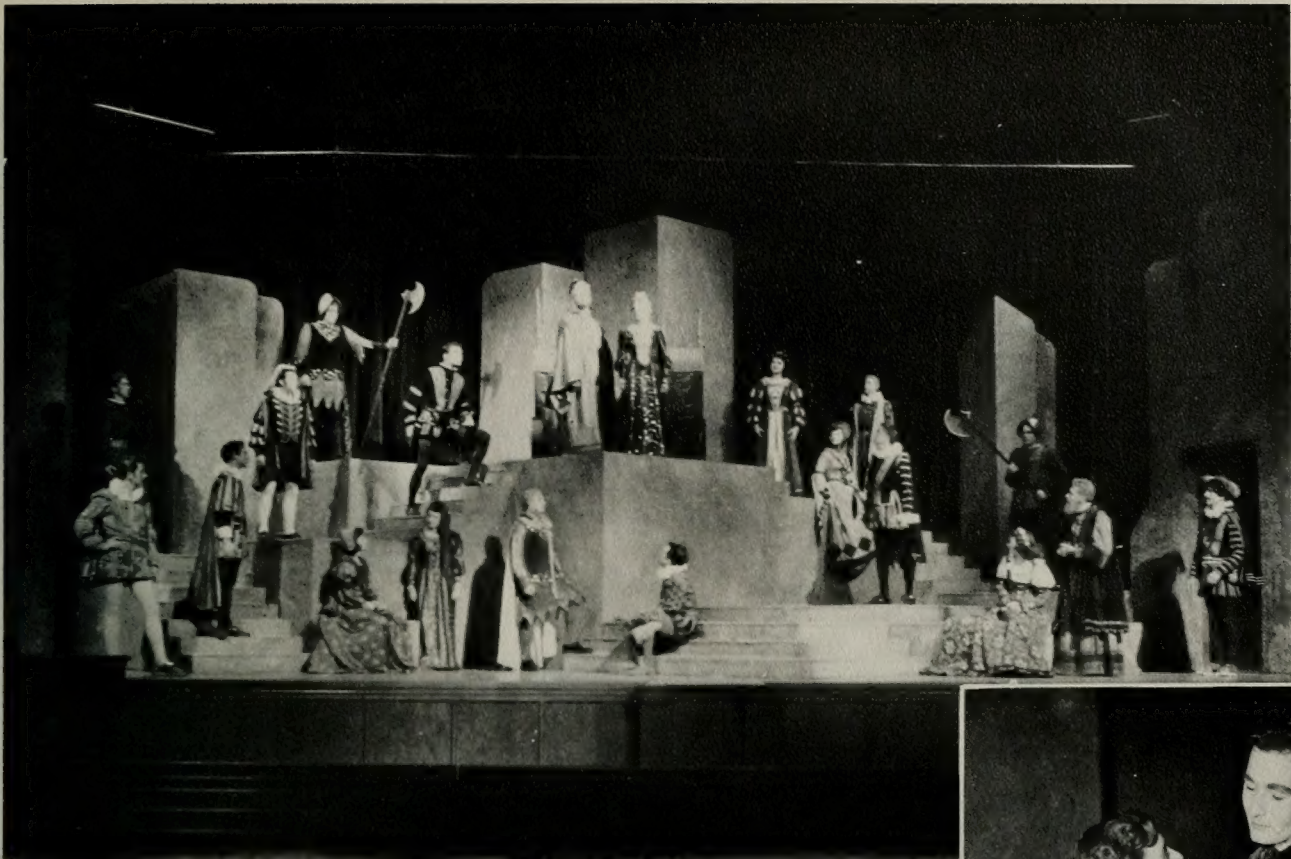

AUTUMN LEAF HIKE & HOP

The day started out like any ordinary one except for the tingle of excitement at climbing for miles and miles in a mountain paradise. The sunshine bounced off laughing faces as your classmates tripped and fell on their lunch sacks and girls who hadn't worn their levis for years blushed at ripped-out seams. As the sun went west, feet were being soaked in hot water and dry autumn leaves brushed from solar-bleached hair.

The evening found a few of the braver hikers at the Autumn Leaf Hop sponsored by A.M.S.

Claudius and Gertrude, ill-fated King and Queen of Denmark, refused Hamlet's plea for his rightful place on the royal throne.

Hamlet denies the love of ardent Ophelia and seeks only the revenge of his murdered father.

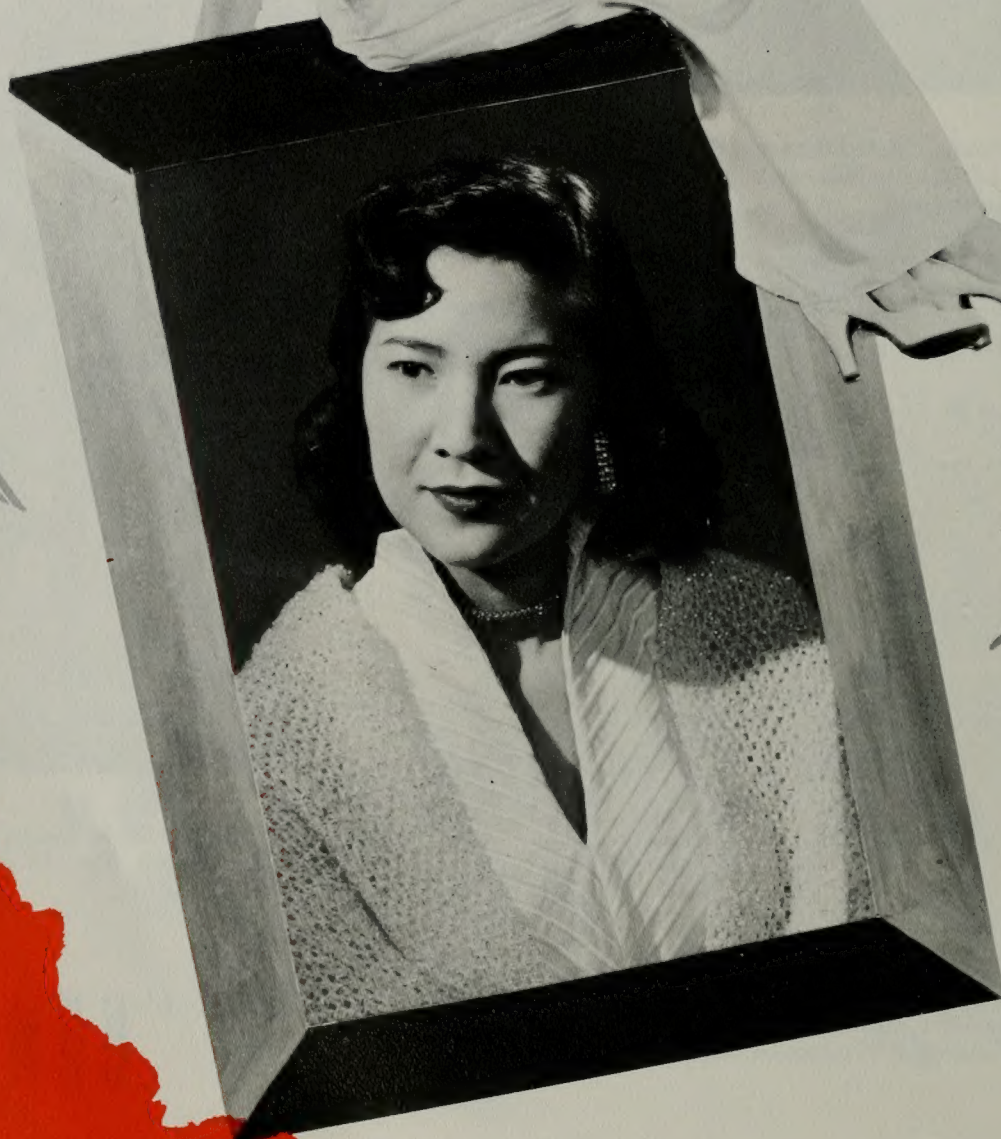

University theatre audiences were thrilled with the costumes, lighting realistic settings, and excellent acting of Shakespeare's immortal "Hamlet." Staged for a three-night run, the drama met with splendid success and captured the true styling of Elizabethan culture.

HOMECOMING--1952 STYLE

Colorful Homecoming ceremonies took place at Queen Alice's royal morning coronation. Dainty talisman roses perfumed the air as Mrs. Wilkinson crowned the exotic beauty.

Exciting music styled for dancing filled the Homecoming air with golden memories of "A Y's Promise."

HOMECOMING PARADE

The breath-taking float entries of your 1952 Homecoming Parade were spiced by several marching bands, led by the ROTC military band. Cougarettes, Sponsors, White Key, Y Calcares and other service units were also represented. The "What For?" quartet and the Cesta Tie trio took the honors at the Fieldhouse Follies on Friday night.

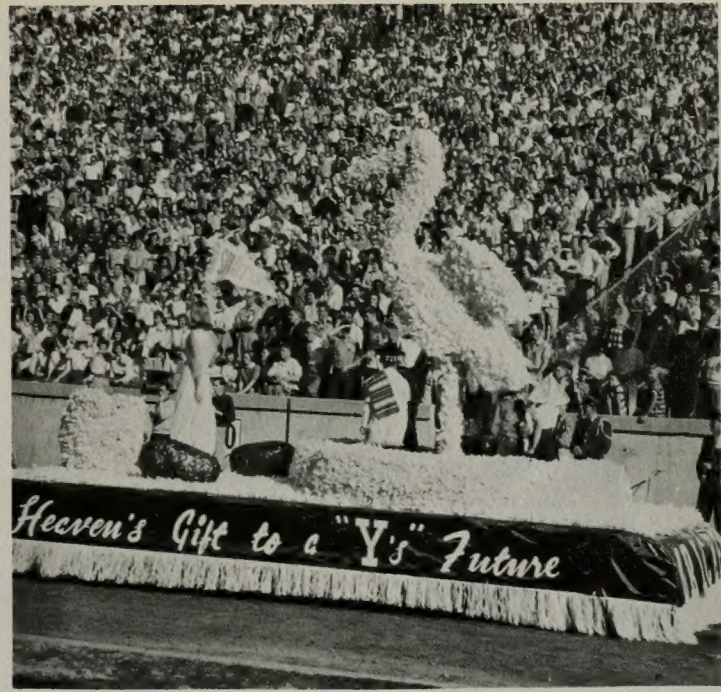

Delta Phi copped the coveted sweepstakes award in the Saturday morning's parade. Entering a float depicting the fruits of missionary labors in many lands, the returned missionary group topped many lands, the returned missionary group topped a field of 47 of the finest floats ever seen in a Homecoming parade.

An award for the most beautiful float went to the Tokalon social unit. The Toks earned the valuable award with a depiction of the good things of life flowing from two horns of plenty.

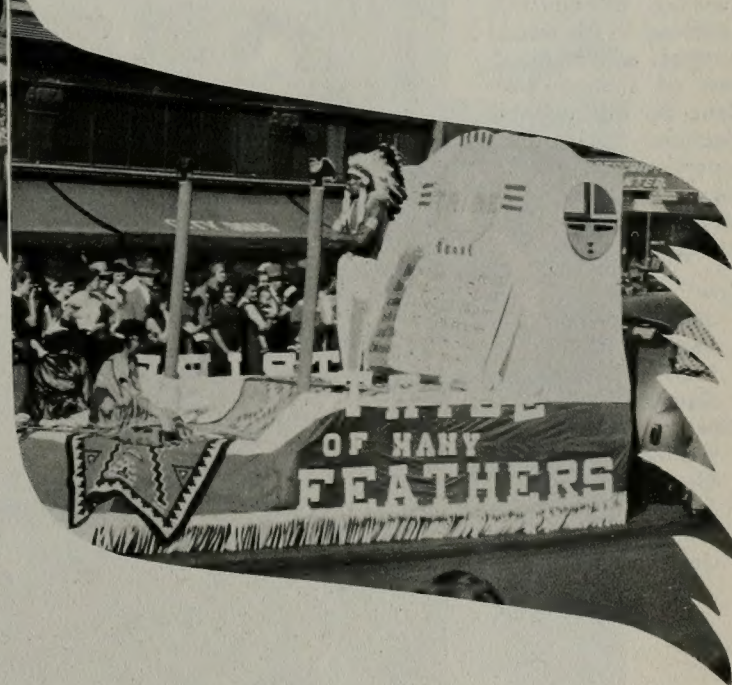

A stork presiding over a nest-full of children, representing Heaven's Gift to a Y's Future, gained the "Most Original" award for the Bricker social unit. The children on the float symbolized many nations of the world.

Featuring the best in campus trios and quartets, the Fieldhouse Follies evening of song was graced by the presence of Queen Alice and her court as well as Miss Utah, LaVon Brown. The Lion's Quartet also pleased the large crowd with serious and comical renditions of popular barbershop melodies.

The evening was climaxed by the presentation of a model of the Y Bell monument. Another outstanding feature of the Homecoming weekend was Friday morning's Coronation assembly. The beautifully organized program was composed of student, alumni and faculty talent.

NOVEMBER-- AND YOUR FIRST VACATION

The bell rang for a change in classes, and a lonely-looking freshman came creeping down the hall, observing his classmates carefully. VIRGIL CAMP
Director

"New Moon," Brigham Young University's first Varsity Show in three years, was a smash success on its opening night in the Joseph Smith Auditorium. Directed by Virgil Camp, the Romberg-Hammerstein musical has been a perennial favorite and included such familiar hit tunes as "One Kiss," "Lover, Come Back to Me," "Wanting You," and "Stouthearted Men."

The setting of the play was New Orleans in the year 1792 at the household of a wealthy plantation owner Monsieur Beaunoir and his daughter Marianne. Robert had sold himself as a bond servant and was secretly in love with Marianne. A conflicting love story, comedy interest, a pirate ship, and life on a remote desert island were mixed together to complete the story.

"DEATH OF A SALESMAN"

"Death of a Salesman" is an exciting story of a man who accepts the denatured ideas of American society and naively succumbs to success—worship and the belief that a jolly locker-room personality which makes one "well-liked" is a substitute for solid accomplishment.

At the age of 63, he is faced with the failure of this way of life. He is an unwanted employee and a parent disappointed in the sons whom he has imparted his own values.

This character drama, presented to an overflowing audience in the Provo High Auditorium, is so firmly drawn that many Americans from all walks of life have identified themselves or their relatives with the salesman.

EDGAR BERGEN & COMPANY

Hollywood's pride and joy, popular N.B.C. radio stars Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy appeared in a riotous guest fund-raising program sponsored by the East Provo building committee.

Appearing with the famous twosome was top talent from the student program bureau including the Hillbilly Sextet, solos from Lorna Erickson, Ron Wilcox, and Howard Ruff. Choral selections from the ROTC male chorus including solos by Ron Carter and various songs featuring the Dell-Tone trio concluded the talent packed program. A sparkling sixteen piece all-student dance band directed by Gus Shields and Dick Ballou furnished novel background music.

"The Drunkard," an old fashioned melodrama, staggered onto the B.Y.U. stage to become an instant hit. The University theatre offering was light and relaxing in sharp contrast to the heavier plays of the regular season.

The delighted audience played an important part in the well-known production and cheered the traditional hero, weeping for the sweet little heroine, and hissed at the mean ol' villain to their hearts' content.

BANYAN BALL

Campus beauties from all sections of the nation hopefully stepped forward to fill the dainty glass slipper of the 1953 Banyan Queen. Dashing movie actor Tyrone Power was to be Prince Charming in the selection, and many a young campus princess' heart beat faster as the approaching stroke of midnight announced the final decision.

Beautiful Queen Marilyn Pulsipher graciously accepted the coveted crown and bouquets of carnations as President Wilkinson congratulated her and two lovely attendants Joan Taylor and Marilyn Norton. Seated on a white velvet throne beneath a shimmering silver and red heart, the trio was entertained in royal fashion with the L.D.S. sextettes' rendition of "With a Song in My Heart."

Marilyn Pulsipher

Selected from a bevy of beautiful coeds by motion picture idol Tyrone Power, Queen Marilyn Pulsipher played Cinderella at the 1953 Banyan Ball — "Lucky in Love."

Other finalists in the selection were Patricia Johnson, Barbara Miller, and Marilyn Peterson.

University audiences roared at another speech department comedy farce, "Papa is All," one of the merriest and most popular comedies in the modern theatre. The story was cleverly plotted around a Pennsylvania Dutch family and centered around the rebellion of the mother, son, and daughter against the tyrannical Papa, a staunch Mennonite who missed the traditions of his religion for his own purposes and suppressed even the simple pleasures of every-day life for his family.

According to Director Gledhill, "The play was infused with enough tense moments and high, suspenseful drama to make it one of the most emotionally electrifying, as well as humorous evenings ever spent in the theatre."

Familiar Bibler cartoon characters and a refreshing atmosphere of hilarity reigned supreme at the riotous "Bibler Bounce," annual fun dance sponsored by the Universe, student newspaper staff. Most campus "Joes in the know" are acquainted with the pranks of the inimitable cartoon character known as Worthal and his gang of college buddies.

Students' popularity polls revealed Louis Pergolizzi as the "little man on campus," Zan Knudsen as sweetheart Frieda, and Professor Stewart Grow as the unconquerable Professor Snarf. The distinguished trio provided belly-laffs at the evening's brawler, that is—ball!

HIT ASSEMBLIES

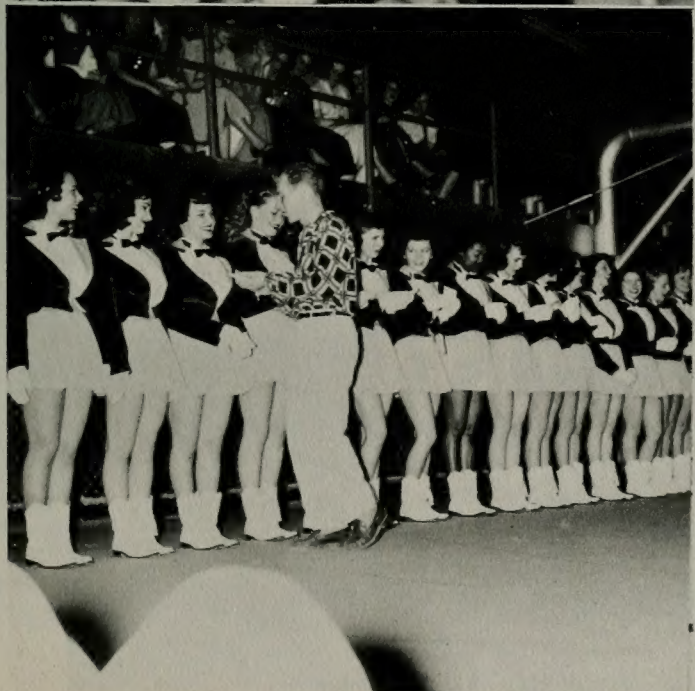

A charming feast of vocal entertainment to lyceum-goers, the prominent Vienna Boys Choir appeared in a guest performance on the regular college series.

MARCH -- YOU WORE YOUR FIRST TUXEDO

A whippoorwill sighed in the hazy distance as the blazing sun made its way to the top of Y Mountain and a new day dawned to find a freshman and his friends discussing love, politics, and war on their way to school. Winter's snow had made its exit, and blossoms of a golden spring perfumed the air.

Songs of spring were featured at the special A Capella assembly . . . Elder Harold B. Lee inspired you with his spiritual speech in devotional . . . Scott Fisher presented routine awards to the cute Nevada Rhythmmettes . . . the Y had never seen anything quite equal to Joseph Limon and his famous dance troupe.

THE JUNIOR PROM --

A land of make believe and classic enchantment took over as your 1953 Junior Prom changed the fieldhouse into an "Elysian Fantasy." Soft, subtle lighting, music by Les Brown and his band and a wonderland of delicate Greek statues and white columns made this the "biggest and best" ever in Junior Prom history.

Life-size marble statues and ivy covered column decorations silhouetted prom-goers against the novel lighting of the ballroom.

Hollywood's own Les Brown and his "band of renown" brought a talented troupe to entertain the huge crowd of dancers.

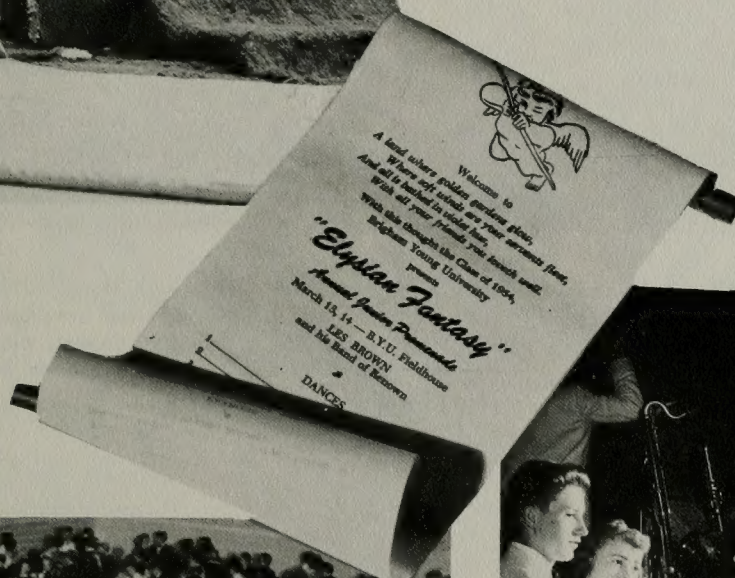

"Elysian Fantasy"

Lynn Jeppson, as the classic beauty Venus, held a large crystal ball and foretold coming events at the Court of Venus assembly proceeding the formal evening of tuxedos.

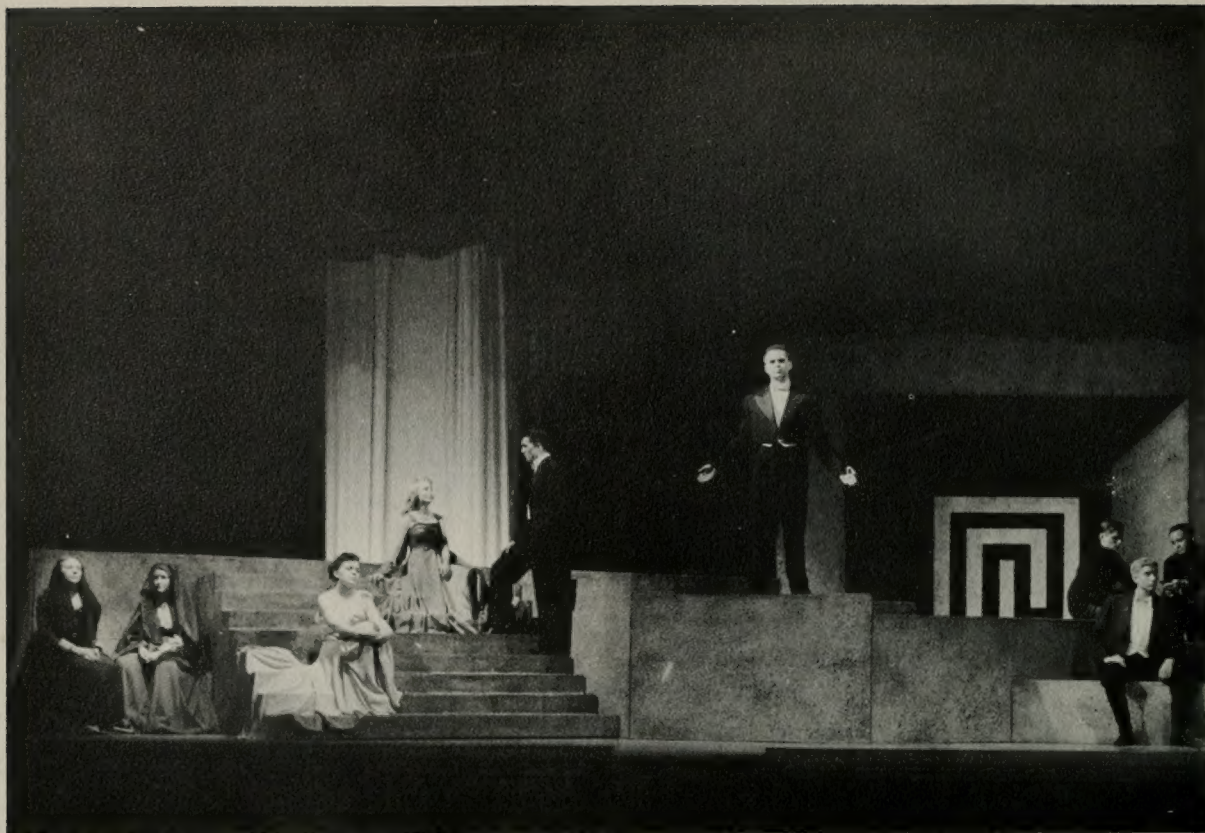

Bouquets went to Chairman Wally Hunt and committee: Hal Jensen, Naida Black, Sylvia Tyler, Ken Perry, Boyd Bitton, Bill Perry, Russ Michelson, Wayne White, and Dick Smart.

Special intermission entertainment featured Miss Carol Robinson of Portland in a program of graceful dance stylings.

Attracted couples admired the dainty setting of cupid and his clan in a sparkling fountain arrangement.

A modern adaptation of the Greek tragedy made famous by Sophocles and other classic dramatists, "Antigone" reached a peak in stirring entertainment as it unfolded on the university theatre series in March. Directed by Dr. Harold I. Hansen, the performance featured unique stage settings and superb lighting and was narrated between actual scenes of action by a one-man chorus, played by Rue Johnson. University audiences polled their approval of the timely tragedy.

Another instant hit on the University theatre stage, George Bernard Shaws' immortal "Pygmalion" is based on the ancient Greek legend of the sculptor, Pygmalion, who created a beautiful statue of the lady, Galatea, and fell in love with the statue and brought it to life. The play concerns a Cockney flower-vending girl, picked up on the London streets by two professors of phonetics, who make a bet that they can turn her into a lady and pass her off as a duchess in six months. Complications arise when the men look on her only as an interesting experiment and fail to recognize her as a woman.

PYGMALION

MAY -- AND YOU WAVED GOODBYE

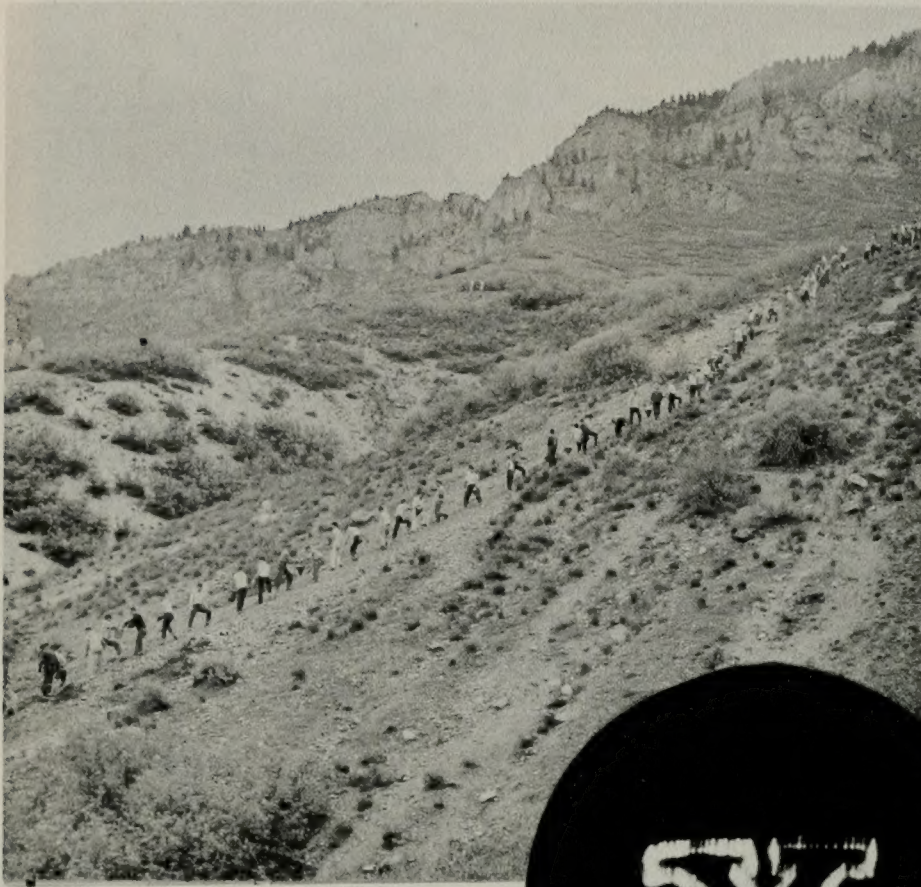

A freshman peeped from his basement window at a plump red robin snapping bits of yellow straw from an old broom to build its nest in the high treetops. He pictured himself at the first of the year—gradually climbing until he, too, had reached the top of a tree, a tree of adjustment, perhaps—and then he went home for the summer.

He waved goodbye to friends and classmates . . . the Ri Vedas offered spring flowers as a going-away present—seniors laughed and cried at a touching commencement ceremony . . . leaving dear old B.Y.U. until next fall—be seeing you!

"Y" DAY AND WHITE-WASH BLUES

Buckets of whitewash, old brooms and mops, girls in levis, and "vigilantes" on the prowl gave a freshman his first impression of Y Day. While the male population set out for rugged mountain climbing to paint the highest college letter in the world, energetic coeds went on a campus-cleaning spree to leave dear old alma mater spotless for the summer term. At night, the vivid glow of the lighted "Y" exemplified the true college spirit behind a cultured and spiritual university.

When the masculine artists of the mountain had achieved the brilliant white perfection desired, they returned to a hearty feast prepared by sister students.

Games and entertainment finished the day—and a few of the exhausted workers.

FRIENDLIEST GAL

CAROLYN EDWARDS

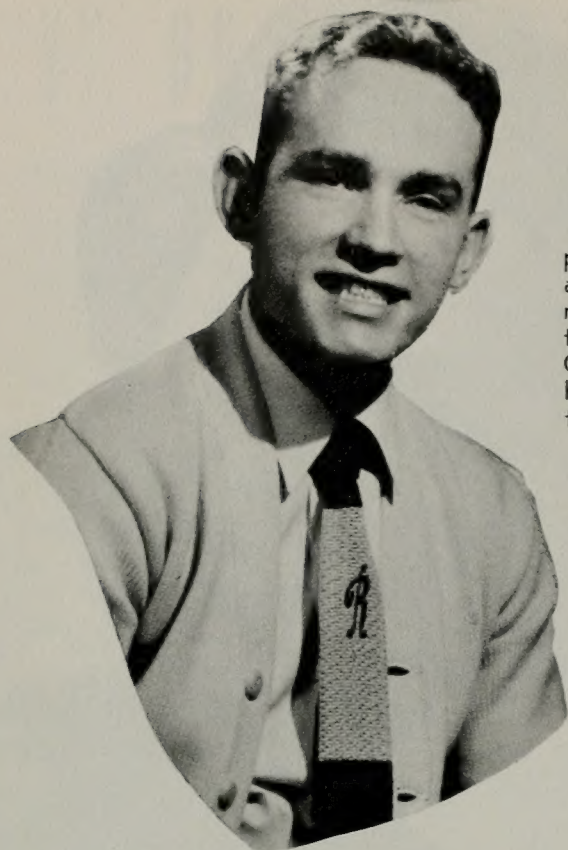

Voted by students as "most friendly girl on campus," Carolyn achieved an admirable reputation as student-body secretary, member of Val Norn, Gamma Phi Omicron, and White Key, and smiled her way through an outstanding year of student leadership at the school she holds so dear to her heart. Helpful and understanding, Carolyn is a Provo gal and believes that a spiritual conception of life leads to a healthier and more friendly state of mind.

...AND GUY

LEROY PORTER

Happy-go-lucky LeRoy of the hearty greeting and friendly hand-clasp maintained an enviable record as student-body president and a preferred man, and was elected by an overwhelming majority of campus citizens as "most friendly boy on campus." A resident of Provo, he has served a full-time mission for the Church, and proved that student leadership goes hand in hand with hard work, efficient organization and a friendly "Hi!"

YOUR 1953 BANYAN

Conscientious and devoted to the 1953 Banyan, Bob Carter proved to be an outstanding Editor. Never losing his cheerful attitude and friendly smile, even after working into the early morning, Bob was always accommodating and never too busy to help the junior members of his staff meet their deadlines. Optimistic, hardworking, always friendly, and with a heart as big as "all outdoors," Bob Carter will long be remembered in the Banyan office.

Capable and efficient, the 1953 assistant editors assumed many editorial tasks. They had complete charge of the Banyan Ball and the Banyan assembly, which won the winter quarter outstanding assembly trophy. Their assistance gave valuable aid to the editor, and experience for future years to themselves. B.Y.U. has not seen the last of these two.

WE MADE IT!

The BANYAN is proud of Andy Douglass and his sales staff who anticipated a great year in the sale of yearbooks and devoted untiring effort to overcome the risk entailed. While carrying a full academic load, Andy managed the business staff and surprised tradition with progressive ideas concerning sales which amounted to the distribution of 3,610 BANYANS.

Ted Money—1952 Banyan business manager and 1953 Universe business manager—supplied the ways and means for you, the students, to receive a Universe every Tuesday and Thursday without charge.

Joyce Whiteley—although busy as White Key prexy—kept things in order with efficient office management—in both old and new office locations.

Jack Monson adds spice and zip to every issue with professional action shots and photos. Full of fun, he is rarely seen without his flashy pet, that camera.

READ ALL ABOUT IT...

Due to the long hours of the largest and most dependable staff in years, the 1953 BY UNIVERSE captured the significance of the moment and acted as an advocate in the cry for press freedom. Throughout the year on the editorial page, several big issues such as the modesty question, devotional bickerings, and the White Horse Controversy drew response from studentbody and faculty alike. The "Bibler Bounce" sponsored by the staff lead by unassuming Ralph Jack and the extra-special Christmas, Homecoming, and Gooniverse editions made history and fun for the entire studentbody.

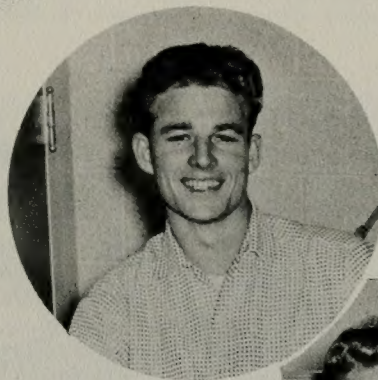

Mild-mannered Ralph Jack, Editor-in-Chief, assured B.Y.U. of a full eight-page newspaper every Tuesday and Thursday plus extra editions for special occasions.

YOUNG UNIVERSE

This year was crowded with "firsts" for the student magazine. Publication was increased to three times yearly; the use of color, illustration, and advertising was increased in amount and attractiveness; an office in the new Student Service Center was occupied; the editor became a student body officer and a member of the Legislative Council; and Wye became a member of the Associated Collegiate Press, a national organization.

Although not specializing academically in English or Journalism, editor Virgil B. Smith devoted his talent and much personal attention to the production of each Wye, in addition to writing a weekly column for the campus newspaper. He has tried to make the magazine an appropriate expression of the unique culture surrounding B. Y. U. by using material of literary quality coupled with significant, constructive content.

ALL IN A DAY'S WORK...

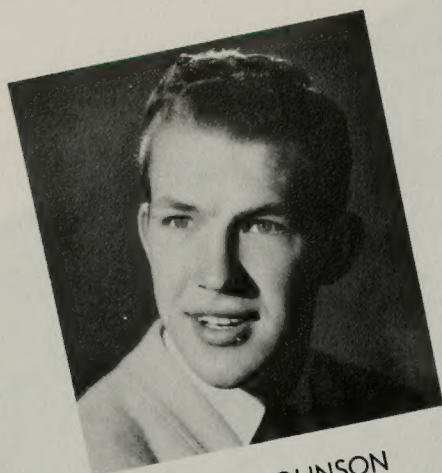

All in the life (or death) of a yearbook photographer—facing life squarely through his camera lens, he bravely sets out each day, takes tons of photographs, returns proudly to his dark little rendezvous and finds, after unloading his prized possessions—no film! Oh, well, he'd been thinking all year of using his new little Brownie, anyway.

COACHES

EDDIE KIMBALL

Director of Athletics Eddie Kimball is "the man behind the gun" who coordinates the excellent BYU athletic program on campus. You probably remember Ed as a previous coach and for his commendable job in the years he has served as director.

At right, excited Cougar fans cheer "with a C O U G A R S ! Fight, Cougars, fight!"

The heart-beat of the university, sports at Brigham Young created the sure-fire spirit behind a completely functional recreation program aside from regular classwork and textbooks.

CLARENCE ROBISON

Track coach "Robbie" Robison, an ex-BYU track star, took over the coaching reigns for the cindermen in 1949 immediately after his graduation. He has the complete admiration and confidence of his teams—a necessary combination for a sound, successful track year.

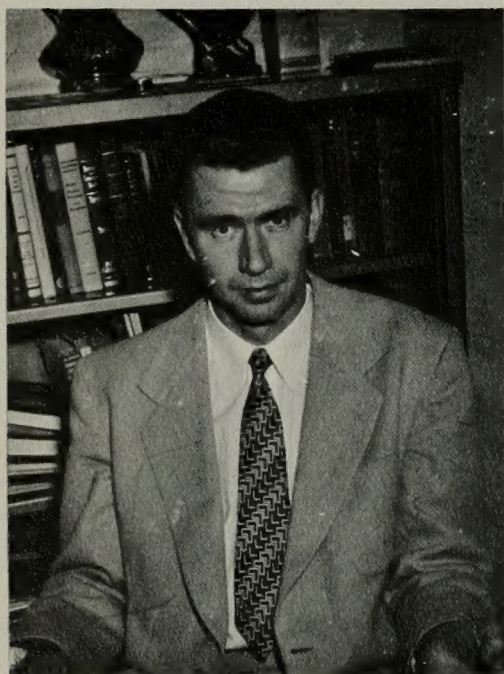

STAN WATTS

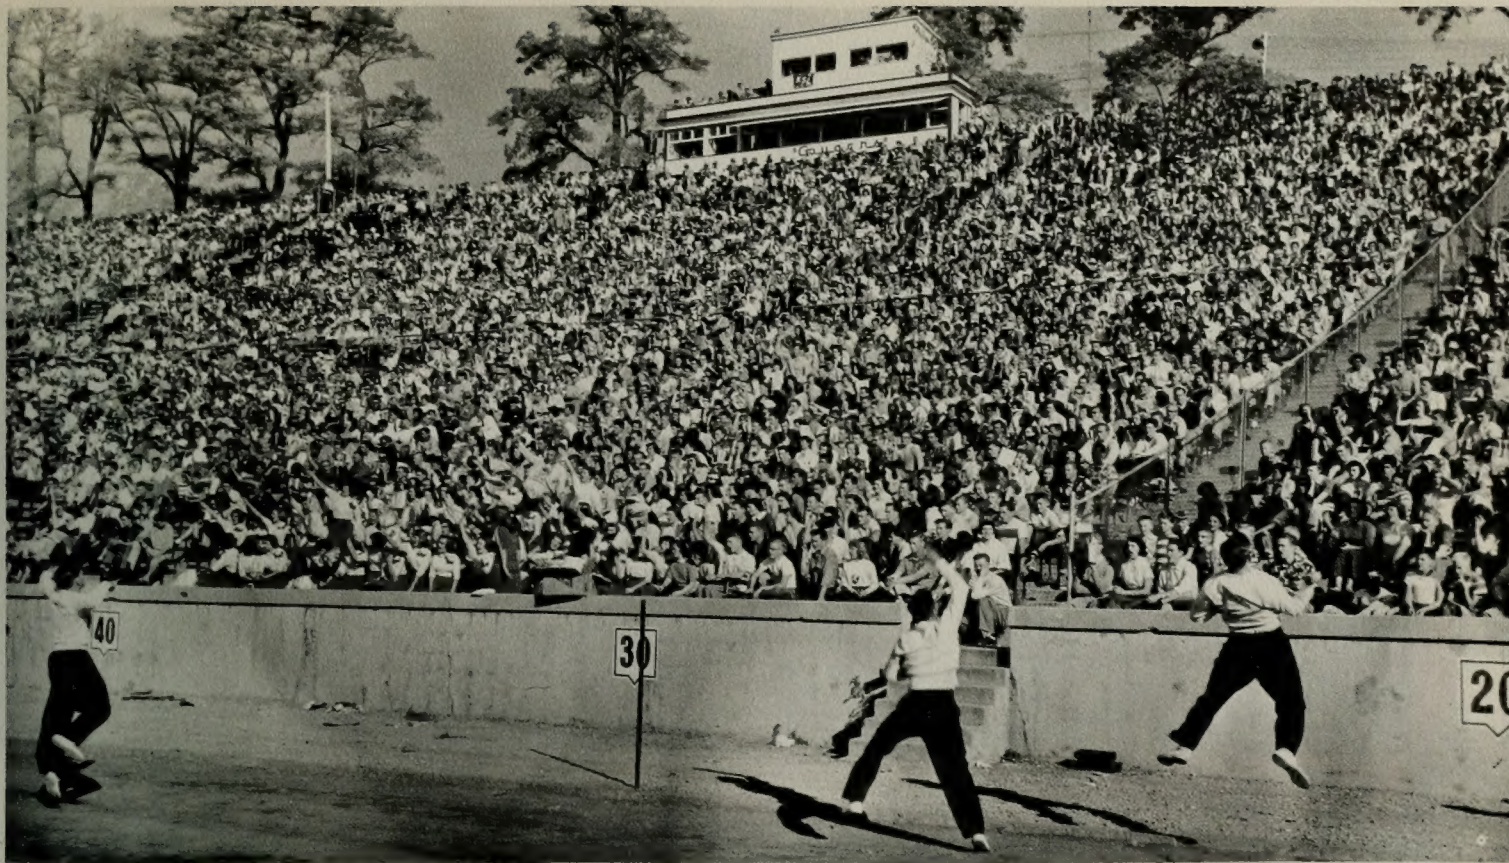

Coach Watts has led his Cougar Cagers through another exciting and successful basketball year.

During his short career at the Y, he has walked away with two conference titles and an N.I.T. title as well as maintaining a national reputation for his team.

CHICK ATKINSON

Football coach Charles Atkinson has gradually improved his grid-iron crew to a point of conference material and has spent four years in raising football standards at the Y.

DAVE CROWTON

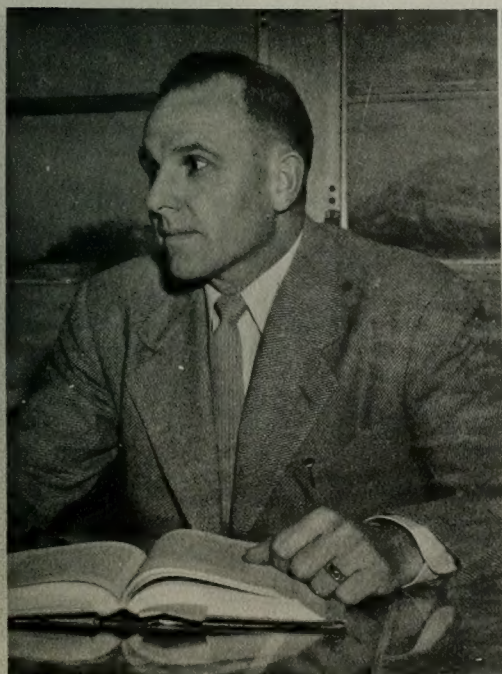

Leading the Y nine to a conference victory during his first year, coach Dave Crowton as assistant football coach is shaping up gridiron techniques on the Y stadium field.

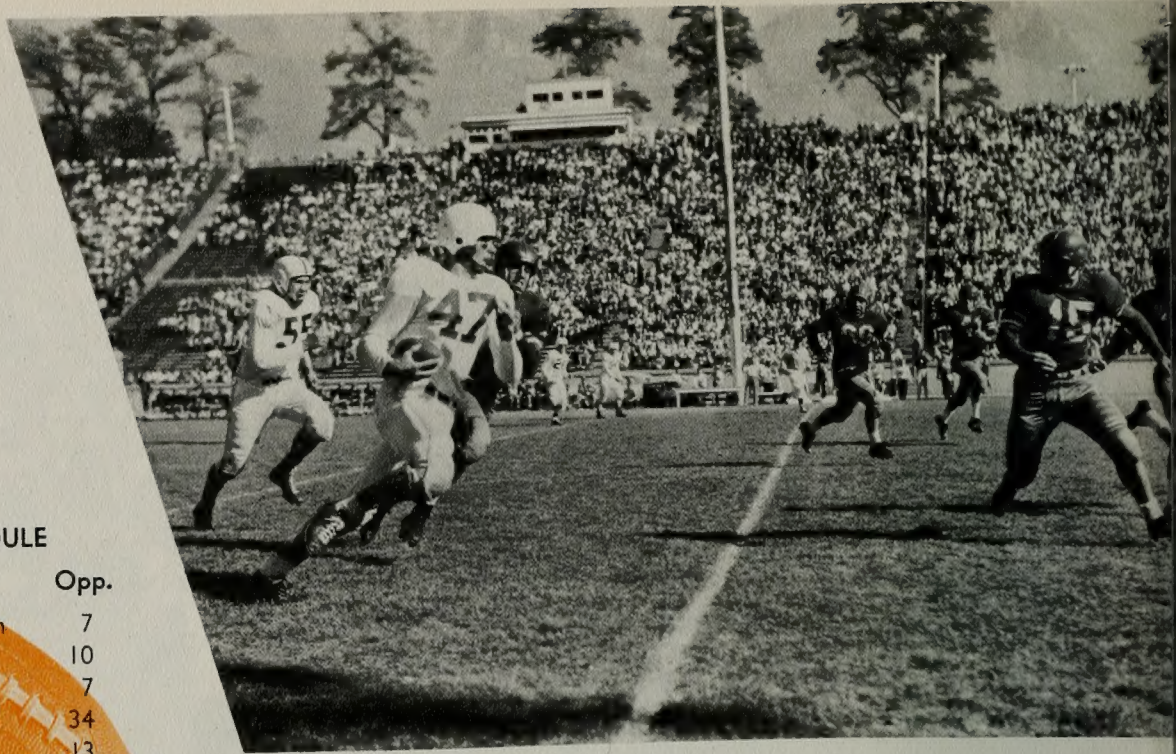

BUCK DIXON

Giving expert guidance to tennis and golf aspirants, jovian coach Buck Dixon sought another Skyline Six tennis championship for the Cougars in addition to developing golf techniques on the park green.

REED NILSEN

Wrestling and football talents came through with Coach Reed Nilsen at the reigns. Assisting in football workouts, he is a former BYU football champ and experienced athletics trainer.

Football

Winning the first three games of the season after a powerful beginning, Chick Atkinson's grid squad finished the season with a 4 won, 4 lost record.

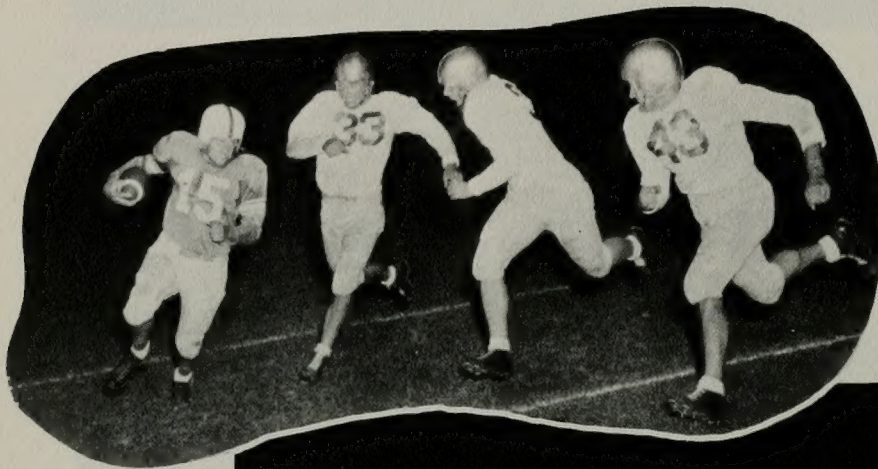

Chosen at the season's opening to place high on the conference roster, they stalled after a roaring start and ended up in sixth place in conference competition. Individual records were taken by several of the players and the team copped recognition as best in Skyline pass defense.

Rated as the team to win, the Cougar Cats were shellacked by the Utah Redskins 34-6.

The traditional clash between Utah and B.Y.U. was the worst spill of the season for the team of the blue and white. A hard pill to swallow, the game ebbed at the half to disclose the defeat of the rugged Cougar grid stars and a hard-fought victory for the U.

First shining victory of the year for Brigham Young was the defeat of the opposing team as the Cougars raced out to meet fast and furious Navy Skyraiders for a final score of 14-7 and went on for a well-earned win over New Mexico, 14-10.

Brigham Young stepped forward to wallop the Denver Pioneers as the Cougars out-fought and outplayed their highly touted foes to a classic win of 14 to 13. Homecoming alumni cheered at the unequaled goal technique used by the gridgers in defeating the rowdy Coloradans.

Hey, bud—watch where you're going! I'm taking a basket of goodies to Grandma's.

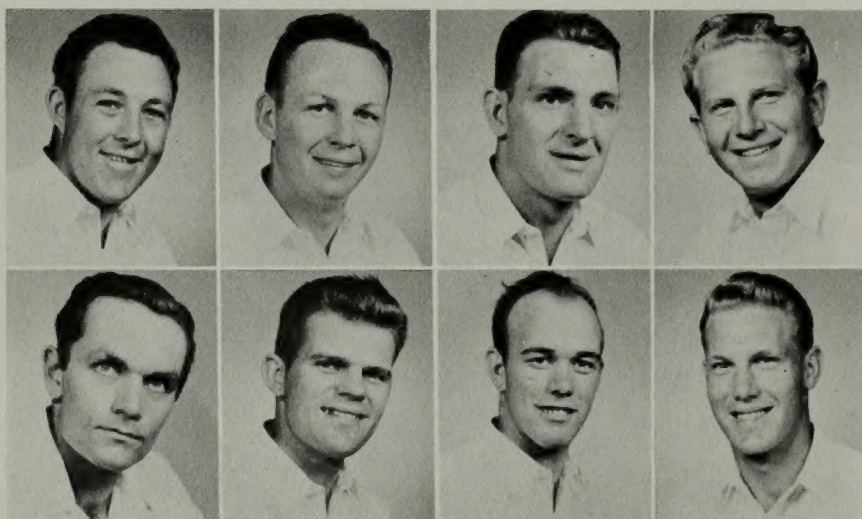

Time out for ballet on the ball field.

The rough and ready Wyoming Cowboys showed no pity for Brigham Young and their ill-fated turn of luck as they downed us 24-13. The San Jose State Spartans seemed at home as they rolled over the Cougars to a startling heartbreaker of 44-27. Utah State Aggies had a stroke of luck as they clipped us 27-26. The sad but wiser Cougars rolled up the season with two defeats from Colorado A & M and Arizona State Sun Devils.

YOUR CHEER LEADERS

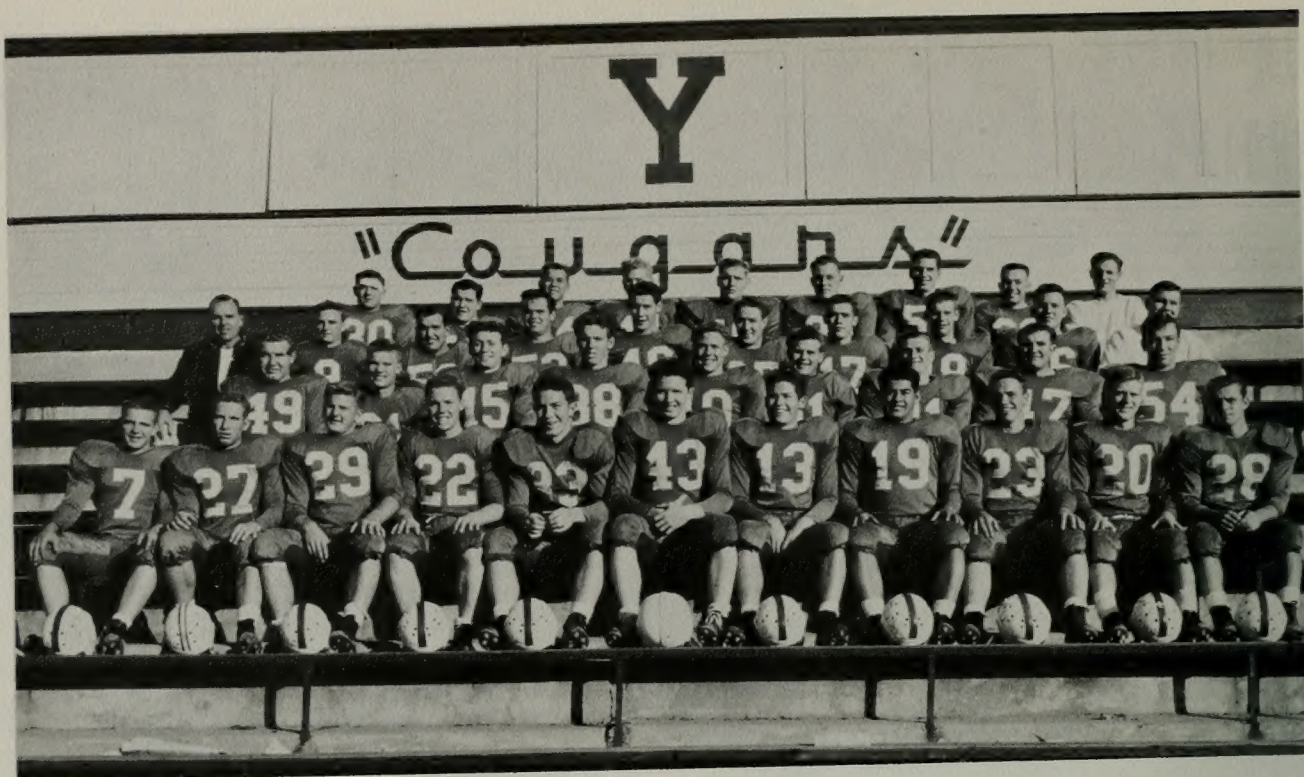

Blue and white letter sweaters and slacks gave ambitious cheerleaders Kent Walker, Boyd Busath, Barry Bright, Harold Empey, and DeVon Fife the old fighting success spirit at football games. Vitality and strong lungs combined, the talented quintette added pep rally power to revive old and new yells of encouragement for the Cougar Cats.

AND SONGLEADERS

A sight for sore eyes at half-time, this snappy pom-pom quartette added plenty of sparkle and color to your games with their sharp routines. Wearing their pin-wheel skirts and polka-dot tights, (L. to R.) Marlene Empey, Carolyn Probert, Jean Dixon and Lenora Hoyat created the originality and vitality of your athletic contests.

The Cougar Kittens started off with a bang as they rushed out to meet the brawny Utah frosh, only to come back home disappointed at the final score of 12-14, favoring the Redskins. The two-point lead led to greater inspiration for the Cougars, however.

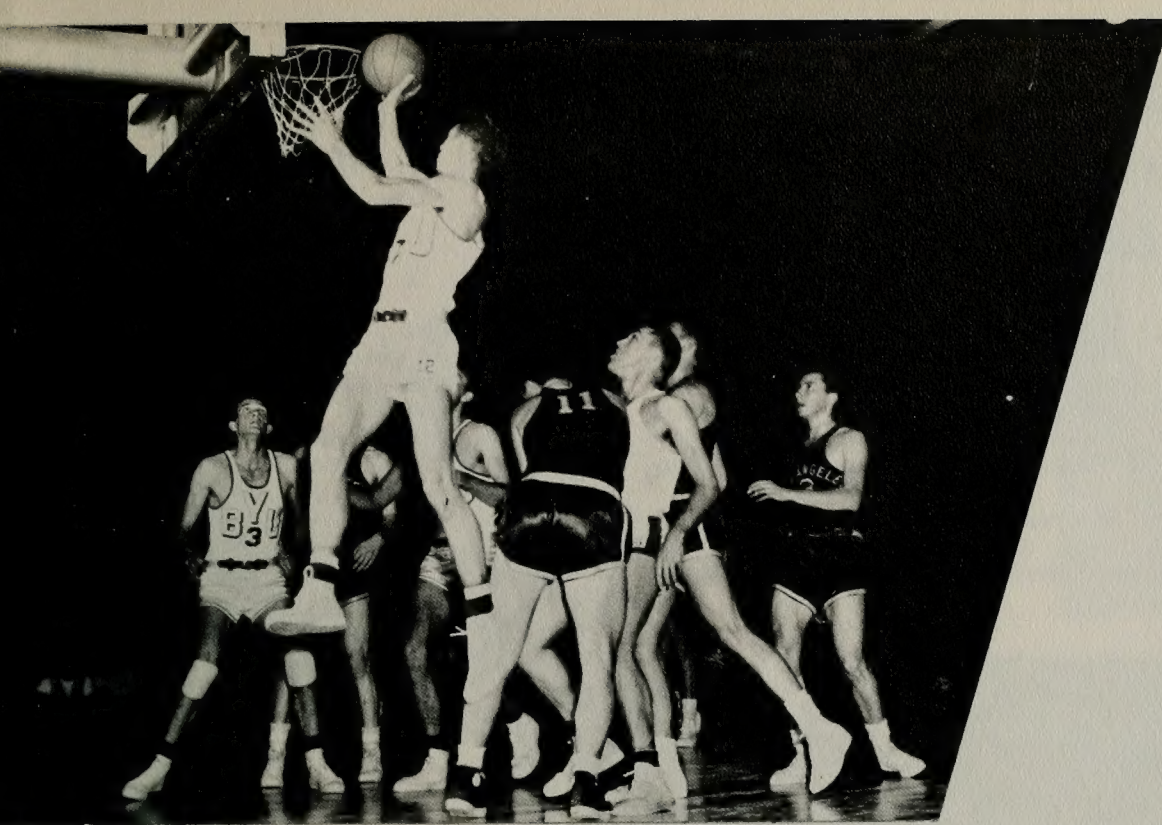

Snow Junior College matched their brawn with the husky B.Y.U. Kittens in a rugged free-for-all which ended in a close one for the Cougars as the final chalk-up showed Snow ahead by only two points.

In the tussle with the Aggies Frosh from U.S.A.C., Brigham Young came through with a dynamic six-point lead to top the season off with surmounting grid prospects for the next season.

Following a less victorious football season, BYU sport fans were encouraged to note the strength of Coach Stan Watts' rugged basketball squad. The Cougar Cagers showed their superiority by defeating Idaho State College twice by lop-sided margins. The next two battles raged with Los Angeles State chalked up another two-victory split for the fiery BYU Cats.

ANOTHER GREAT ALL-AMERICAN

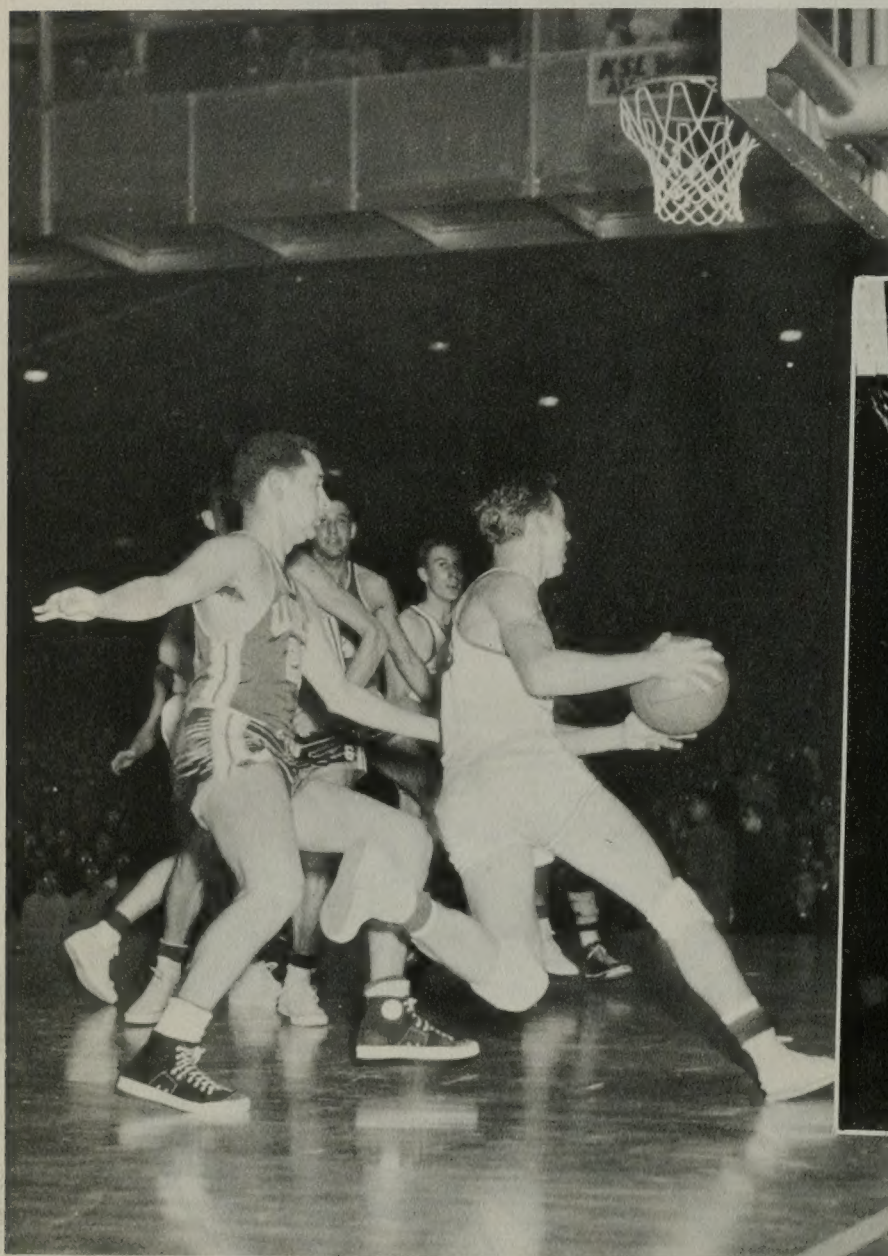

The wide-eyed Cougars faced their first rugged competition after rolling over Los Angeles and Idaho State by defeating the cagey N.I.T. champs of San Francisco with a close toss-up of 53-52. A free shot by Larsen at the final quarter of the tied tourney chalked up the extra point to move the Blue and Whites on for an enviable record in the approaching conference line-up.

Washington and Oregon State proved to be only mild competition for the anxious Cagers. Richey, Larsen, and Christensen spilled point after point into the nets to cop a pair of brilliant triumphs over the Northwestern teams.

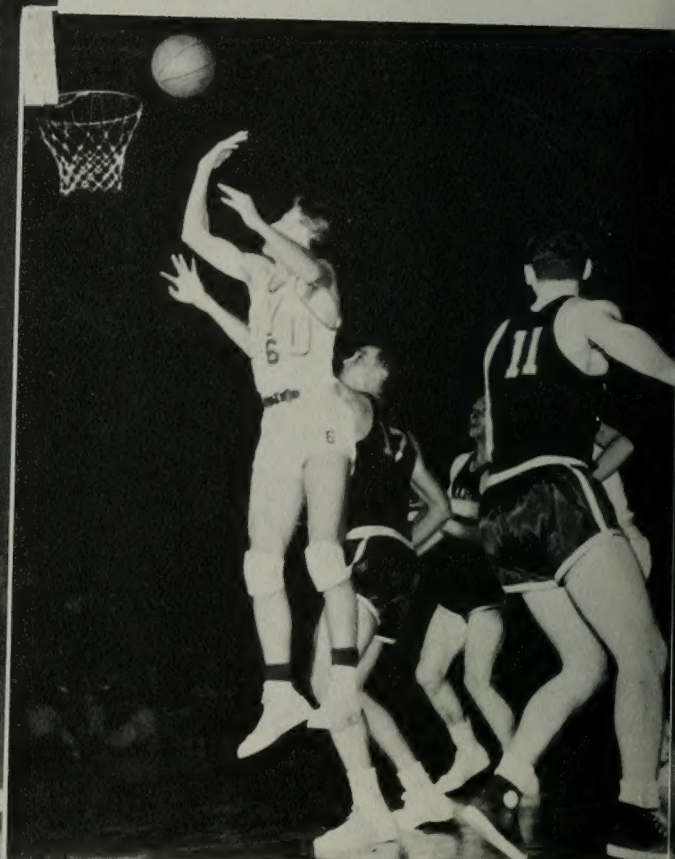

Split-second speed, defense, and drive wound up an easy double victory for the Cats as they walloped Los Angeles State in the early season games with basket scores of 84-49 and 56-37.

Invited to the National Invitational Tourney after dropping the western teams, the hopeful cagers sky-rocketed over St. Louis with an easy 86-69 chalk-up to admit defeat as the Eastern Kentucky bounders copped a hard-fought victory by two points.

Another hair-raiser with Duke University rang up one more triumphant victory for the fiery Brigham Youngs, 69-68, and carried them on to a royal second place in the conference.

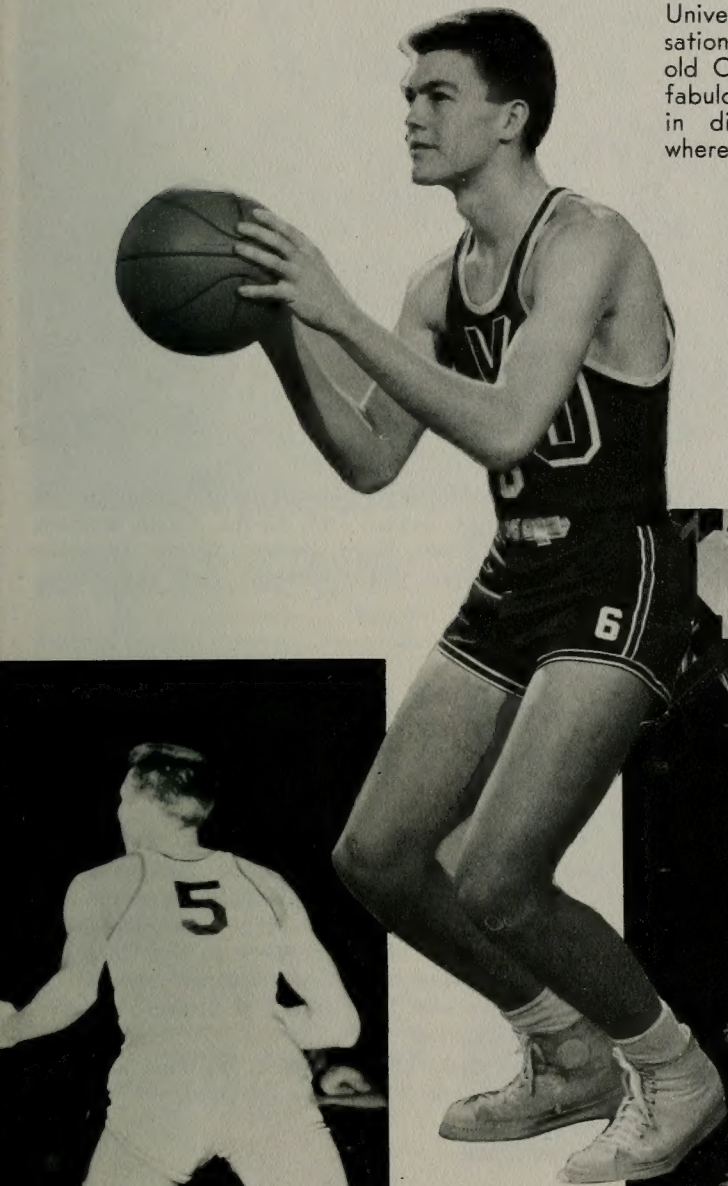

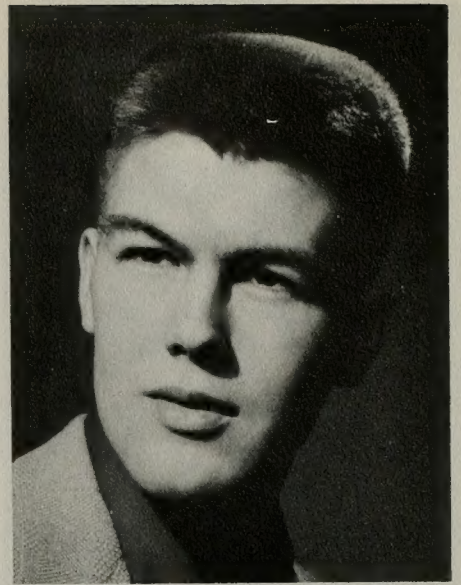

Left: Cutting close corners to avoid the tricky San Francisco mob, Van Burgess plans a neat hole-in-one.

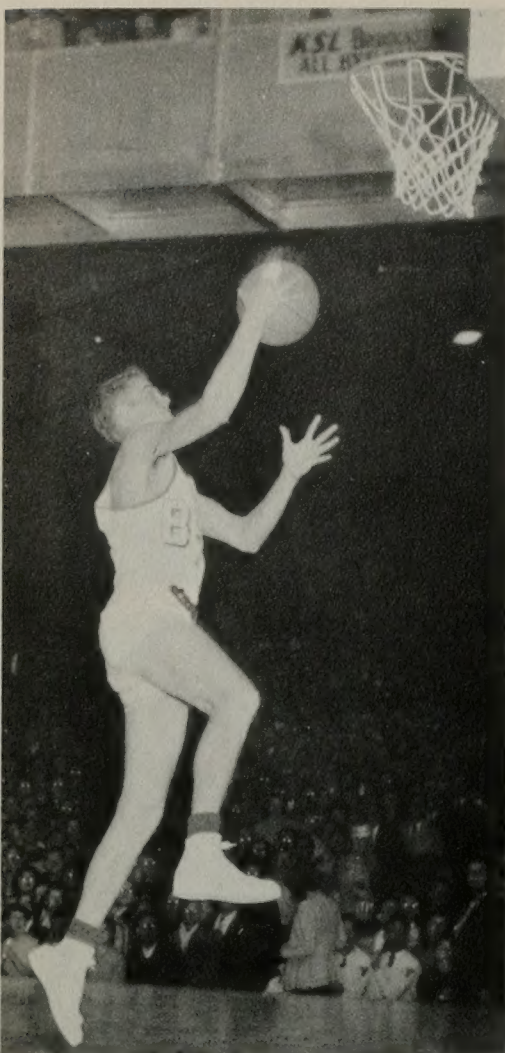

Graceful Joe Richey skyrockets to complete a two-point lead on Los Angeles with a fancy jump shot.

JUMPIN' JOE RICHEY

Joe Richey wound up his collegiate basketball career in a blaze of glory that is unprecedented for an athlete from Brigham Young University. The Arizona sensation and famous star Harold Christensen began their fabulous basketball careers in different high schools, where as All-American senior players, they played opposite each other in the Kentucky conference play-offs. Now at the Y, both were all-conference for two years, co-captains, on the all-Dixie Classic team, and played starring roles on the N.I.T. Championship. Richey was recently honored as Second Team All-American by Look and Colliers Magazines. Hats off to two swell fellows who have really brought out the "spirit" at the Y and won for it a national reputation!

ALL UP IN THE AIR

Driving in for another easy meet with the spirited New Mexico Lobos, the victorious Cougar squad faced the sharp claws of the Montana Grizzlies to fall along the wayside for a bitter five-point loss. New ambition and an encouraged team drove on to tackle victories from the next four opponents as the Cats shellacked Wyoming, Colorado A & M, Montana, Utah State and St. Mary's defensive squads. Another heartbreaker came with the Broccos of Santa Clara as the brawny Cougars underwent a rugged defeat of 64-72.

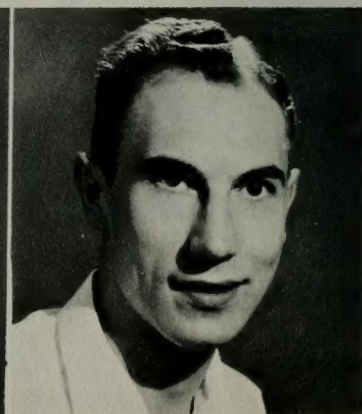

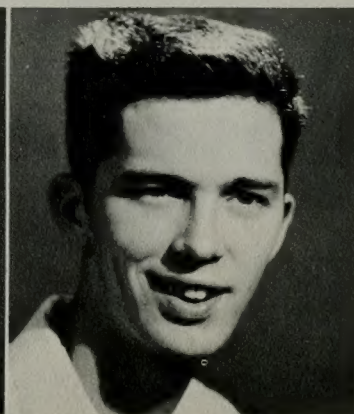

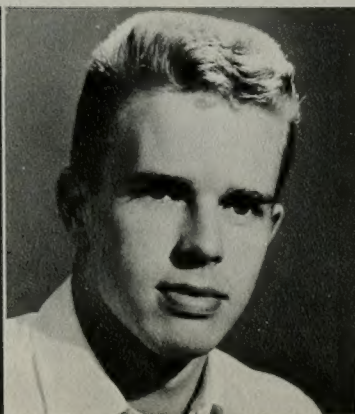

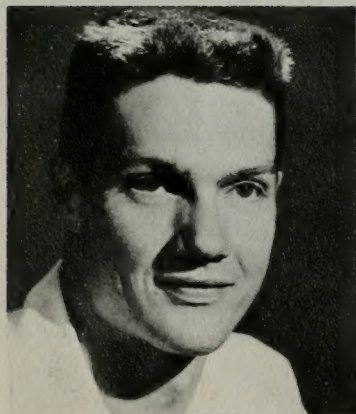

Copping two more triumphs over the husky Utah Redskins, the Blue and Whites rode home from Wyoming and Colorado A & M disappointed at the losses suffered by their hard-fighting squad.

Carrying the traditional block "Y," the familiar White Keys led the annual Homecoming Parade. White Key was organized on the BYU campus in 1933 to promote service(scholarship, and enthusiasm. Girls are chosen at the end of their junior year on the basis of outstanding scholarship and service to the school. Members publish the student directory, sponsor the Cougarette marching unit, award a rotating scholastic trophy, play hostess at the Invitational Track Meet, present the annual Spring Fashion Show, and usher and assist with various studentbody activities throughout the year.

Priding themselves in active campus participation, the Y Calcares have had another busy year. The sister unit of IK's, the YC's co-sponsored Hello Week and Belle of the Y Week. Along with these two successful activities, the two units had several exchange parties and a spring invitational. Ushering at lyceums, assemblies, and a number of school programs and taking charge of the voting booths constitute the major portion of their activities. Selected for their interest and participation in school functions and scholarship, a "2.0" average must be maintained, and girls serve during their sophomore and junior years. Mrs. Royden Braithwaite was sponsor during the year.

The Intercollegiate Knights National Honorary Service Fraternity, founded on the BYU campus in 1941 as an underclassmen's service organization, has now grown into a four-year service organization. This chapter is known as the "Gold Y" Chapter—one of 32 chapters in the western United States.

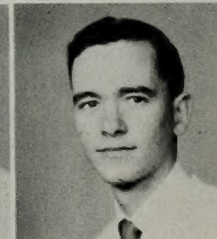

The tradition of ringing the old Y Bell after sports victories is a duty of the Knights, as is sponsoring Belle of the Y Week and Hello Week activities. This year the IK's were fortunate to have one national officer in their chapter, J. Norman Smith—Royal Editor.

KIA ORA

Since its organization three years ago, the Kia Ora Club has become one of the most cosmopolitan organizations on campus. Students from New Zealand, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, and the United States unite to portray the Polynesian culture of the Maoris of New Zealand. The rhythmic flight of the poi, the grace of the Maori action song, and the violence of the war dance provide unique entertainment for thousands of people in the mountain west. Another culture is planted on the Y campus.

Although it is one of the youngest, Alcyone has become one of the larger units on campus. Aspiring to their motto, "All ideals as high as stars, yet we shall ever aspire to reach them," the girls strive to cultivate virtue, friendship, spirituality, beauty, and knowledge. Annual events include the invitational, dinner dance, exchanges, and the Saxon-Alcyone assembly, "Rhythm Route." Members of the unit have proved their resourcefulness and ability in many school activities.

Twelve men drew up the Gold Bricker charter in 1917 and helped to shape many of the patterns, ideals and traditions of their unit. The Y's oldest unit on campus has as its aims three qualities . . . high ideals, a thirst for success and a sincere desire for fellowship. With an emphasis on activity, Brickers have made traditional many events which include a Dinner-Dance, an assembly, an Invitational, Bricker-Tausig Week, an alumni banquet and participation in Homecoming activities. This year's float won first place in the originality division. Traditionally, Bricker initiations have been known to be the toughest on campus. This practice is based on the idea that something must be worked for to be of value.

With the definite objective of creating better fellowship through common social interests, the Brigadier social unit has carved its niche on the social life of the university. Since its organization in 1931, it has grown from the original six charter members to the present membership of fifty. T. Earl Pardoe was charter sponsor. Autumn quarter, the unit sponsored the traditional Bowery Ball in an atmosphere resembling the Gay 90's. Other annual activities include the Invitational, the Dinner-Dance and active participation in Homecoming festivities and intramural sports.

One of the newer units on campus, Cami Los, organized in 1952, works "not for personal glory, but for the good of all." Each letter in the name represents the beginning letter of a flower. A very active unit, their members have participated in an invitational, assembly, dinner dance and also had a float in the Homecoming parade. Among their ranks are such notables as the Loan Fund Ball and Carnival queens.

This year as the Cestas celebrated their 25th anniversary, they continued to perpetuate their motto, "All I would have my friend to be, that would I be to her and more." This unit, organized in 1928, has always been known for its friendly girls. The Cesta Ties won first place in the Homecoming trio competition, and honors in snow sculpturing as well as other campus contests. The unit's outstanding social events of the year included the invitational, "Morning Moon," which transformed the marble halls of the City and County Building into a Southern rendezvous; the annual candle light dinner, which commemorated their silver anniversary with "Serenade in Silver," the dinner dance held at the Starlight Gardens in Hotel Utah, and their annual weekend canyon party.

Living true to their motto, Amice Fidelas Ami—"faithful friends forever," the Fidelas members played an important role in campus activities. Members of this unit held many studentbody offices: A.W.S. president, secretary and council members, Y.C. president, and Homecoming Queen. A "Blue Velvet" invitational, dinner dance, spring canyon party, outstanding Christmas party, a banquet for seniors and officers, and a dinner dance terminated the year's activities.

Gamma Tau social unit was born in 1946, when six men decided to insure the continuance of a close friendship. The unit has grown rapidly since then in both membership and activities. Annual events include the Birthday Dinner to commemorate the founding of the unit, the Invitational and the Spring Dinner-Dance. The unit traditionally enters a float in the Homecoming parade. Each point in the unit pin has a certain significance. The eleven pearls symbolize the eleven original articles in the constitution. Working together is the special meaning the unit has for the words "Gamma Tau."

Since its organization in 1920, Nautilus has represented many phases of college life. N.A. members, whose theme is the "Chambered Nautilus," held the campus spotlight by holding positions as: Senior class officers, leaders of Sponsor Corps, A.W.S. council members, and Banyan personalities. Members worked to give an outstanding dinner dance, invitational, exchanges, and the annual assembly. One of the main highlights of the year is the awarding of a scholarship to the most outstanding freshman.

"All men who group in the name of Franthor, the fearless, find a power in unity and a strength in faith." In September of 1928, twelve close friends came to B.Y.U. from Provo High, and in order to preserve their unity, they formed the Viking social unit. The unit has been active in school affairs ever since its founding. Some of its traditional events are the Invitational, Jiggs party, the spring Chicken Fry and the Dinner-Dance. This year they are particularly noted for their athletic championship. The Viking theme indicates a striving for brotherhood, friendship, unity and service to church, school and unit. The Vikes are well-known for their serenading. Whenever a fellow-member "hangs" his pin, he is tossed into the pond, while the girl is serenaded.

Just a quiet evening

GYMKHANA CLUB

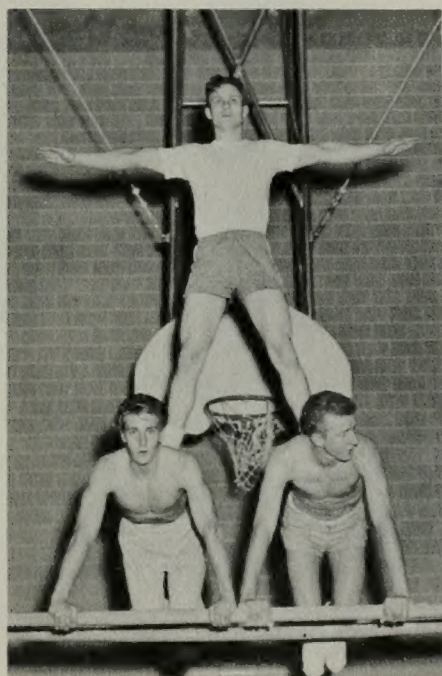

BRENT HENINGER
President

The new athletic Gymkhana Club was organized in January of this year. The purpose of the organization is to give students interested in gymnastics an opportunity to develop muscles on different apparatus. Because of the high interest in gymnastics shown at BYU, the University of Utah is attempting to form a similar organization so that intercollegiate competition can be held. There was a meet held against the A.C. at Logan this year.

Strengthening legs, arms, and backbone muscles is achieved through "pyramid" tumbling.

Muscle co-ordination is developed through rigorous timing and concentration.

NOW HEAR THIS---

WE'RE THROUGH . . .

From the northern tip of majestic Mount Timpanogos to the southern shores of Utah Lake, an editor looked and wondered what he could use for the foundation of as unique a yearbook as possible for the university he loved so much.

He attended a devotional exercise in which President David O. McKay of the Council of Twelve proclaimed Brigham Young University as being "in the spotlight" and a standard among other universities of the world. Seeking a suitable phrase from the Doctrine and Covenants, the editor found a beautiful passage of scripture which states: "Verily, I say unto you all: arise and shine forth, that thy light may be a standard for the nations," and decided to use this with the idea of the steady growth of a spotlight in relation to that of the University.

Because the editor had been taught that "light is truth," and because an education enlightens every mind with an accumulation of this, he presented the idea to his enthusiastic staff. So, combining eight quarts of rubber cement, twenty reams of paper and cardboard, hours and hours of burning the "midnight oil," and a strong determination to produce the idea on paper, a faithful yearbook staff developed your 1953 "In the Spotlight" edition of the Banyan.

We hope you enjoy it and gain as much "light" from its familiar faces and activities in your future storehouse of memories as we have received in its publication. We hope you will kindle, from time to time, that warm "light" of love and friendship so prominent at the "Y" by taking your Banyan from its dusty hiding place on the shelf and thumbing through it for a momentary glance at a joyous and successful year you spent at dear old Brigham Young . . . the greatest university, as far as the staff is concerned, in the world.

BOB CARTER
Editor

TO A DEVOTED SCHOLAR, TEACHER, AND SPIRITUAL LEADER . . . FOR HIS TIRELESS SEARCH FOR TRUTH AND GREAT SERVICE TO MANKIND, WE EXPRESS OUR DEEPEST GRATITUDE TO THE BELOVED MEMORY OF THE LATE
ELDER JOHN A. WIDTSOE OF THE COUNCIL OF THE TWELVE.
